HOT FIGHT OVER THE REGULATION MEASURE

Proctor Bill Reported to the House in a Mutilated State and Author Will Fight It in Senate.

PROCTOR DECLARES WAR ON BREWERIES

Indianapolis, Feb. 21.—The long-delayed Proctor saloon regulation measure was reported to the house of the Indiana legislature by the morals committee at noon today. There was a divided report—the majority recommending passage with amendments entailing a lower license fee than the bill calls for; the minority standing for the passage of the measure practically as it stands.

The senate this morning killed the Farlow bill to abolish capital punishment by a vote of 36 to 11. Four other measures were passed by the upper branch.

Bills were on second reading in the house following the submission of committee reports early this morning.

Find Obstacle to Report.

The morals committee was not prepared to report out the liquor regulation bill in regular order and when it sought to do this at noon encountered opposition from Minority Leader Eschbach, who rose to a point of order.

Representative Keegan, in defense of the morals committee, declared that things had been done in this fashion before, with no one to question, and served notice that if the liquor bill were delayed now, he would serve notice that he would object from now on to the handing in of committee reports out of the natural order.

The matter of submitting the report of the morals committee on the liquor bill being put to a vote the house overruledthe objection of Minority Leader Eschbach.

Provisions of the Bill.

The majority report, signed by Representatives Seidensticker, Frisse, McKennan, Keeney, Rentscheir and Benz, recommends that licenses be classified as follows: Cities of the first and second class, $500; third, $400; fourth, $350; fifth, $250; beer license in towns and townships, $100.

An amendment proposed by the majority apportions one saloon to every 500 population. Another forbids the issuance of a license to any person who has been convicted of a violation of the liquor laws within five years of the time application is made for permit, and making ineligible for license any person who has been convicted five times for infraction of the laws governing the sale of liquor. The bill as indorsed by Representatives Grieger, Wider and Ross, minority members of the morals committee, provides for a $1,000 license and provides that there shall be two saloons for the first 1,000 population and one for every thousand population thereafter. The minority report also recommends the enactment of the non-transfer license clause. Both reports were ordered printed.

Proctor Bound to Have High License.

Senator Proctor was in the house this morning when the committee reported. He plainly expressed his dissatisfaction over the majority report. "I predict," he said, "that the senate will not concur in the action of the house if the representatives adopt the majority report. I will fight a low license teeth and nail in the senate. Not only that, I will tack onto the bill amendments that will make it warm for the brewers. I will make it impossible

DESPERATE RACE FOR MAYORALTY IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 1.—With the mayoralty, worth $18,000 a year, and the job of alderman bringing in $3,000 annually, there is a strong commercial motive behind the scramble of Chicago citizens for municipal offices this spring. The mayor draws pay fifty per cent. larger than that allowed to the governor of Illinois, and the aldermen beat out the state legislators by a like margin. Like the governor, the mayor of Chicago now holds office for four years.

Mayor Fred A. Busse is not a candidate to succeed himself. He has been the most highly praised and the most bitterly attacked man who has held the chair in many years. A special investigating commission, headed by Alderman Charles E. Merriam, found many instances of illegal exploitation of municipal funds. A few subordinates were named specifically, some of whom have since been indicted. Others have been ousted from office.

Among the list of candidates for the nomination are Edward F. Dunne, Charles E. Merriam, Carter H. Harrison and Andrew J. Graham.

WILL VOTE ON LORIMER CASE

Senator Burrows Promises an End of It Following Senator's Speech.

LORIMER TO MAKE HIS FINAL PLEA

Senator Beveridge Gives Impressive Argument to the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 21.—A vote probably will be taken tomorrow in the senate on the resolution calling for the vacating of the seat of Mr. Lorimer, of Illinois.

Just before Senator Beveridge began a speech today to close the argument against Mr. Lorimer's retention of his seat, Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, announced that he would ask for a vote tomorrow, immediately after the conclusion of a speech Senator Lorimer is to make in his own behalf.

Election Invalid, Says Beveridge.

Going to the heart of the question, Mr. Beveridge attacked the validity of the Illinois senator's election. He contended that a sufficient number of the members of the Illinois legislature had been tainted to render Mr. Lorimer's success the result of corruption and urged the adoption of his resolution vacating the seat.

The speaker appealed to senators to regard the case from the standpoint of judges and not to be influenced by their feelings or by the eloquence of other senators.

Not a Question of Lorimer.

"It is the integrity of the election and not of the member that must determine our votes," said Mr. Beveridge, "and we must decide the question upon its merits."

As going to show the necessity of the uninfluenced election to the senate Mr. Beveridge declared that a senator exercises powers almost as wide as a monarch.

"Therefore it is expected," he said, "that an election to a place in this body should be surrounded by every consideration attending the choosing of a president, a member of the house or a judge on the bench."

NEW STEAMSHIP COMBINE.

Liverpool, Feb. 21.—It is stated the Cunard Steamship company and the Canadian Northern Railway company are forming a combination for a steamship service between Bristol, Liverpool and Canada. The management will be in the hands of a joint board, of which a director of the Cunard line will be the chairman.

FOUND DEAD IN BED

New York, Feb. 21.—Albert H. Sutherland, the theatrical manager and husband of Julia Ring, the actress, was found dead in bed this morning at his home on Broadway. Mr. Sutherland was about 50 years of age.

DEMOCRATS ARE HOSTILE

Undercurrent of Opposition to Change in the Constitution.

PASSAGE OF IT THOUGHT CERTAIN

Proctor Says His Saloon Regulation Bill Must Be Made Right.

Indianapolis, Feb. 21.—Opinions as to the validity of the proposed method of changing the constitution continue to differ, and although the majority of the democrats refuse to criticize openly the plan of Governor Marshall, at the same time they have no apparent enthusiasm for discussing or commending it.

Senator Stotzenburg, floor leader of the majority in the senate, however, is positive in his declaration that the bill for an election to adopt the changes proposed by the governor is constitutional and legal and that if the constitution is adopted by the electors of the state, it will be the constitution in fact.

No Valid Objection.

"So far as I have heard there has been no valid objection set forth against the proposal," said Senator Stotzenburg, "and there is no occasion to doubt that the general assembly will pass the bill. If there is a movement on foot among democrats to defeat it, I have not heard of it."

It has been claimed that the voting requirement on poll tax would prevent men 21 years of age from voting because they would not have had any tax to pay, but Senator Stotzenburg asserts that only in cases where the individual had any such obligation could he be bound by that clause.

Kane Will Attack It.

Senator Kane (rep.) states that he has a desk full of arguments which he intends to form into a speech in opposition to the bill when it is brought to the floor on second reading, if opportunity is given, and if not, then he will speak when the bill is placed on its passage.

"I consider the measure not only ill-timed and ill-advised," said Senator Kane, "but a dangerous departure from established precedent and custom. I have citations which I will offer showing conclusively that a constitution cannot be changed, amended or a new one substituted in the manner intended by the bill."

Approve of Proctor Bill.

Representatives of the Model License league of America, Colonel T. M. Gilmore and A. H. Woodward, of Evansville, are spending a few days in Indianapolis watching the course of the Proctor regulation bill and they declare that if it passes it will be the most advanced type of saloon legislation in the United States.

"We have been contending for the provisions of this bill for several years," said Colonel Gilmore, "and Mr. Proctor has been familiar with our ideas. We believe in the bill and think that it is far ahead of anything of its kind. If enacted into law, the Proctor measure will be copied far and wide over the country and the Model License league claims the credit of having espoused many of the reforms it contains."

Friend of the Lobbyist

Lobbyism found a champion in the person of Senator John T. Strange, of Marion, yesterday after Senator Carleton, of Evansville, had finished his little flaying specialty during the consideration of the shot firer's bill. Senator Strange was for the bill, but he declared that he was opposed to having the lobbyist abused.

"I welcome the lobbyist," said the champion of the third house, "and I believe that they are of real service to the members of the legislature. I have been here a good many years, but I have found that there are very few cases where but one side of a controversy is represented.

"Through the lobbyist we get many of our ideas about the effect of bills and the value as well as the disadvantage of them. On account of these things I do not like to hear this talk against the lobbyist and feel that a good word should be spoken for them."

Senator Strange is the first member of the upper house to espouse the cause of the men who are watching closely the drift of legislative affairs and who are exerting their influence in one way or another on the bills that are under consideration.

FARMERS ARE AGAINST BILL

FREE TRADE WITH BRITAIN HINTED

Says Six Million Farmers Want No Reciprocity With Canada.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Farmers registered protests against the Canadian reciprocity agreement in the hearing today before the senate committee on finance. Former Governor N. J. Bachelder, of New Hampshire, master of the National Grange, made the opening argument and announced that if the committee had the time to hear them he would be followed by masters of granges of eleven states, including Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia, as well as representatives to the various associations and directors of state experimental stations.

The witnesses today received valuable assistance from Senators Hale, McCumber and Smoot, who evinced sympathy with their opposition to the agreement and aided them with questions. Senator Stone took the lead in cross examination.

Says Farmers Unite in Opposition.

Mr. Bachelor asserted that six million farmers were united in opposition to the agreement and said he voiced their protests against free trade in farm products while protection was continued upon manufactured articles which the farmers are compelled to buy. He declared that Canada was the only country which the farmers had to fear and that free trade with that country meant that the farmers would derive no benefit whatever from the tariff law. He denied that cheap food would result from the consummation of the agreement.

According to Mr. Bachelder, Canada has cheaper land, lower taxes, virgin soil which does not need fertilizing, and cheaper labor than can be found in the United States. He said wheat had already been forced down six or seven cents a bushel on the prospect of free trade with Canada. Senator McCumber interjected that in the northwestern markets the decline had been at least twelve cents.

Mr. Bachelder Shy in Spots.

"If this is an honest bill let it include free trade with Great Britain," said Mr. Bachelder.

By questions, Senator Stone developed that Mr. Bachelder was not really in favor of free trade with Great Britain and that he had no personal knowledge of the difference in the value of lands, the price of labor or the amount of taxes paid in Canada and the United States.

During this inter change Mr. Bachelder suggested that the only fair way for free trade to be established would be to let the stars and stripes float over Canada.

"That is a species of jingoism talked about recently," said Senator Stone. "I don't believe it is within the range of possibility."

T. C. Laylin, master of the Ohio State grange, complained that the agreement took the duty off wheat and left it on flour. He said that consumers did not eat wheat, that they ate flour and that the same thing was true as to live cattle and dressed meats. Taking the duty off wheat would not reduce bread, crackers or any finished products, he said; the tariff did not work that way. Mr. Laylin declared the only protection left to the farmer is that on wool. "It wont be long before that is removed."

In prompt chorus Senators Smoot and McCumber asserted that it was gone already.

"Under this agreement," said Senator McCumber, "you can drive live sheep across the border from Canada, shear them in this country, sell the wool and drive the sheep back again."

"Well, we are not far enough advanced in Ohio to have figured out a thing like that," remarked Mr. Laylin. "We are just farmers and we have been a little befogged there. We farmers stayed at home in the last election and Governor Harmon got 95,000 votes less than two years ago, yet had 100,000 majority. Republican congressmen who favored protection for wool were defeated. We certainly were befogged."

"That isn't the only place where the farmers were befogged in the last election," remarked Mr. McCumber.

Canadian Bill Will Pass.

The reciprocity agreement with Canada will pass the senate. This was a declaration made today by Senator Carter, of Montana, as he was leaving the white house after a conference with President Taft. Personally Senator Carter is opposed to the measure. Representative McCall, of Massachusetts, who introduced the bill in the house, also discussed the situation with President Taft and is hopeful of the measure's success.

President Taft has been informed by the secretary of the American Manufacturers' Export association that about 82 per cent of the members of the organization in a letter ballot have voted in favor of the Canadian reciprocity, while a number of others were partly favorable to it.

THE SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

That is the Report of the Boilermakers' Strike on Lake Shore.

MANY MEN ARE OUT

Cleveland, O., Feb. 21.—"The situation is unchanged," was the statement issued by D. R. MacBain, superintendent of motive power of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad today, regarding the strike of boilermakers on that division of the New York Central lines yesterday. "We have our shops operating and are experiencing no great inconvenience."

Vice President Louis Weyand, who has active charge of the strike in behalf of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, is at the Collinwood shops today. He had hopes, he said, that the men who walked out yesterday would be joined by others today.

SAYS ALL ARE OUT.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 21.—"Practically all of the boilermakers employed by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern line of the New York Central system between Chicago and Buffalo have quit work," said President J. A. Franklin of the International Boilermakers' union at the union's headquarters here this morning. The walkout is in response to a strike order issued by President Franklin yesterday morning as a protest against the recent installation of the "piece work" wage system by the railroad.

"This means," President Franklin continued, "that about 1,500 men are idle. Reports from the strike zone to me this morning through Louis Weyand, of Cleveland, vice president of the union, show that the men have responded promptly to the strike order. No arrangements for a conference with the railroad company have been made as yet, but the outlook for an early settlement seems good."

PROTEST AGAINST BLOODSHED

Washington, Feb. 21.—As the result of a protest registered by the British consul at Port Au Prince against the reign of terror in Haiti, the state department today made representations to the Haitien government on the wholesale executions of revolutionary prisoners, advising the authorities to adopt a more reasonable course.

TO ABOLISH VETO POWER

Government Bill to Curb the Lords Introduced in the Commons.

MEANS RADICAL CHANGE IF PASSED

Premier Asquith Makes a Strong Speech for the Great Measure.

London, Feb. 21.—The government bill to abolish the veto power of the house of lords which if the government is able to pass as it stands promises to accomplish a historic change in the parliamentary system of Great Britain was introduced in the house of commons today by Premier Asquith. No one professes to see the outcome of the constitutional battle. If the liberals have any thought of a compromise they are keeping their intentions to themselves and the greatest controversy known in this country for several generations began with both sides apparently determined not to yield except to superior force.

Great Crowd Listens.

A full house faced Mr. Asquith when he rose to make the customary explanatory statement on the introduction of a measure of such moment. Tickets for seats in the public galleries had been exhausted weeks before and the diplomatic and peers' balconies were thronged with interested hearers.

The premier lost no time in letting the opposition know that he felt the country was behind him and therefore did not hesitate to reintroduce the bill without a change of a word in the form in which it had its first reading last year. The measure, he said, had gone before the electorate at the recent elections and had been endorsed by the return of its supporters to the house of commons with a majority of 226.

Committed Political Suicide.

Mr. Asquith declared that when the lords rejected the budget of 1909 they committed political suicide and that history would say that it was the most stupendous actofpolitical blindness ever perpetrated.

Hereditary in origin, irresponsible in the exercise of its powers and overwhelmingly partisan in its actual composition—that was the body to which the law entrusted the right to delay and check the considered decisions of elected representatives of the people, according to the premier.

Will Have Second Chamber.

The premier said that he did not propose to dispense with a second chamber. They had already suffered enough from the evils of what was practically a single chamber government, but the country required an immediate remedy for the present evil and could not await a release from the dangerous and intolerable situation until the long and laborious process necessary for the creation of a new second chamber had been completed.

GARDNER DEFENSE BEGINS.

Trial of Ex-Senator On Charges of Attempted Bribery.

New York, Feb. 21.—Former State Senator Frank J. Gardner's counsel began today their defense to the state's charge that Gardner tried, in 1908, to bribe congressman, then State Senator Otto G. Foelker to vote against the passage of the anti-race track betting bills. Last week and yesterday the prosecution had witnesses on the stand in an effort to show that Gardner offered Foelker a bribe of $12,000 while the two were on a train coming from Albany.

Gardner, himself, was expected to take the stand early in the course of the defense.

MAY REDUCE THE COST OF FRUITS

Commission Issues Order Cutting Charges for Pre-Cooling.

WHERE ADVANTAGE IS

Washington, Feb. 21.—Material reductions are made in the cost of precooling of citrus fruits from California to eastern points of destination, as far as the Atlantic coast, by a decision handed down today by the interstate commerce commission.

The decision was prepared by Commissioner Prouty in the case of Arlington Heights Fruit exchange of Los Angeles and other fruit shippers of California against the Southern Pacific company and all other transcontinental carriers, including express companies. The case is regarded as one of the most important that the commission has heard for many months.

Where the Gouge Is.

The opinion of the commission holds that the defendants' present charges for refrigeration of citrus fruits in transit from California points to the east are not unreasonable, but the commission differentiates between refrigeration and pre-cooling. The commission says pre-cooling, as practiced by the shippers, differs from that furnished by the carriers. The two methods are discussed elaborately and the conclusion is reached that "while it cannot be affirmed with entire confidence that pre-cooling can take the place of standard refrigeration, under all the circumstances, it is evident that the great bulk of the orange crop may be removed by pre-cooling as applied by the shippers."

Cuts $30 a Car.

The present charge of the defendant's lines for pre-cooling citrus fruits is $30 a car. This charge is found by the commission to be unreasonable to the extent that it exceeds $7.50 a car. It is ordered, therefore, that beginning April 1, 1911, for a period of at least two years, the charge for pre-cooling shall not exceed $7.50 a car, provided that the pre-cooled cars be loaded with boxes of oranges seven tiers wide and two tiers high.

J. D. LONG IN EDDY WILL CASE.

Is Retained By Son of Mrs. Eddy to Attack Document.

Boston, Feb. 21.—Announcement was made today that Former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long has been retained to represent in the Massachusetts courts the interests of Geo. Gloved, of Lead, S. D., and Dr. Ebenezer J. Foster-Eddy, of Waterbury, Vt., son and foster-son respectively of the late Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science church.

It is understood that Mr. Long will co-operate with William E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, and his associate counsel, who have asked for a construction of Mrs. Eddy's will.

GOVERNMENT COMPROMISE.

Washington, Feb. 21.—The treasury department today accepted a full compromise of its civil claims against Joseph Brooks & Co., New York woolen importers, who were accused of under valuation frauds. The government recovers $66,000 and retains twenty-four cases of seized merchandise. Brooks & Co. is an English firm with headquarters at Bradford.

RUSSIANS ON THE FRONTIER.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 21.—A dispatch from Harbin says that Russian troops are being concentrated at Kiakhta, a settlement in Siberia, close to the Chinese frontier and opposite to the Chinese town of Maimachin. Orders have been issued to strengthen the watch on the frontier. The Chinese resident of Mongolia has received orders from Pekin to mobilize the banner troops.

ONE FINE WASHUP GIVEN SAN PEDRO

Honduran City Given Vast Cleaning by American Naval Officer.

FILTH WAS TERRIBLE

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, Feb. 20.—(Via New Orleans, Feb. 21.)—Details of the house-cleaning given to San Pedro by Lieut. Roper and the bluejackets from the United States gunboat Tacoma were received here today. It is the custom when any public work is to be done in Central America to make an "official announcement." The announcement is made by an official announcer, who used the military band to draw a crowd. Lieut. Roper wanted to make a proclamation, but discovered the town band had deserted.

Drummed Up a Crowd.

A base drum and a cornet had been left behind so he sent his bluejackets around to drum up a crowd and proclaim the news. Three days later San Pedro began to change.

The jail was the dirtiest place of all. The 100 prisoners were cooped up in three cells almost ankle deep in filth. Roper put them to work every morning cleaning up. He posted his men about the jail and turned out the prisoners for an airing.

General Carias, governor of the department, when he evacuated the town left no records and there was no means of telling what the prisoners were jailed for or how long.

Political Prisoners Released.

Roper explained the situation to General Rosales, who obtained authority from President Davila to release all political prisoners.

With the aid of the city officials and citizens representing both sides, the naval officer, at the end of two weeks, had weeded out forty-eight prisoners, who were liberated. Few appeared to know why they had been arrested.

Attorney J. B. Harper is at Indianapolis on a business trip.

AMERICA NATION OF PORK EATERS

FIGURES STARTLING

Washington, Feb. 21.—"Pork eaters," is a term which may rightfully be applied to the people of the United States if the figures just made public by the census bureau for the year 1909 may be taken as a basis. The figures show wthat during that year 4,453,000 more hogs were killed in this country for food purposes than all other animals combined, including beeves, calves, sheep and lambs, goats, kids, etc. During the year 1909, 36,443,000 hogs were killed for food purposes and 31,960,000 of all other animals.

Total Animals Slaughtered.

The total number of animals slaughtered in the slaughter houses and meat packing establishments during 1909 is given as 68,402,000. These figures, however, do not represent the entire number of animals killed for food purposes during the period which the report covers, and the grand total can only be obtained, it is declared, upon the completion of the statistics of agriculture. The figures given come from 26,424 slaughter houses, which include the large wholesale slaughter and meat packing establishments and fertilizer factories, where dead animals are consumed.

The primary purposes of this census inquiry, it is said, was to determine the number of hides and skins available for the manufacture of leather. These cannot be completed until the statistics of agriculture are available, but the figures so far collected place the number at 32,371,300 available for hides. These figures are exclusive of hogs, from which skins are taken in a few instances.

POPE PIUS HAS RECOVERED.

TURNERS HONOR MR. ROGGEN.

The Fort Wayne Turner society has voted the title of honorary president of the turnfest, which will be held in this city the week of June 21 under the auspices of the local organization, upon Representative Adolph Roggen. Accurate maps of the drill grounds will be sent out this week by Prof. Henry Meyer, physical director of the local Turner society, to the societies to be represented at the meeting by competing teams of turners. The mass drills, which will be participated in by all of the societies at the same time, are shown on these maps.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Feb. 21.—Forecast for Ohio: Fair tonight and Wednesday, except snow flurries near the lakes; continued cold tonight and Wednesday; moderate northwest winds.

Indiana and Lower Michigan: Fair tonight and Wednesday; continued cold; moderate northwest winds.

Illinois: Fair tonight and Wednesday; colder tonight.

BOARD WILL NOT BUDGE; SAYS SO

Letter Sent to Pennsylvania Company and It is Final.

THE CITY HALL NOTES

Members of the board of public works signed and sent today to William M. Wardrop, superintendent of the Pennsylvania company, a communication in which they delivered an ultimatum on the track elevation controversy.

They say they can not see their way clear to enter into a contract to elevate the tracks at Webster street under the present law, but will wait and do it under the laws that may be in existence at the time active work is taken up. This stand is taken because there is a tendency toward placing all of the cost on the railroad companies.

Watching the Bill.

Harry G. Hogan, city attorney, went to Indianapolis at noon to keep a lookout for the Fort Wayne track elevation bill and try to get it enacted. There is so much work before the general assembly that he fears it will be lost in the shuffle. The bill has passed a second reading in the house and has gone to engrossment.

Refused the License.

At a short session late yesterday afternoon, the board of public works declined to issue a sewer builders' license to Allen Martin until he supplies a bond that is acceptable.

A remonstrance signed by fifteen property owners has been filed against the paving of St. Martin street, from Lafayette to Hanna.

O. F. Menefee was granted a permit to construct under private contract cement sidewalks on the south side of Pontiac street, from Smith to Oliver.

Plans were ordered for cement sidewalks on Parnell avenue from State street to Romy avenue.

A petition signed by nineteen property owners asking for the paving of Kinnaird avenue from Fairfield avenue to Broadway, was presented and filed until the board shall find that there is sufficient money in the special fund to take care of the street intersections.

BOSS GLOVE MEN MEET HERE TODAY

THE GIRL QUESTION

The board of directors of the Boss Manufacturing Co. met in the city today for the purpose of considering the enlargement of their local plants. The sale of their outputs (canvas gloves and mittens), has increased so rapidly in the last season that they are unable to meet the demands. Several other questions will be brought up before the meeting adjourns this afternoon, especially the help question. The company employs 350 people in its local factories, which are situated at the corner of Superior and Calhoun streets and in the old school building on Hanna street, and the large majority of these are girls, so naturally the help question is one that needs delicate attention. The plants here will be enlarged if the required help can be obtained.

The Fort Wayne factories are only branches as the main plant is located at Kewanee. Other branch factories are located at Bluffton, Ind., Peoria, Ill., Galesburg, Ill., Monmouth, Ill., Findlay, O., and New York city. The company also has a New York city office. Altogether there are about 1,300 people in the employ of the Boss Manufacturing company and a large per cent of these are young women and girls who operate the sewing machines. The total amount of the pay roll exceeds $500,000 annually, the Fort Wayne pay roll usually exceeding $100,000.

Today's meeting was held at the company's local offices and all the officials were in attendance. The men active in the business who were at the meeting were as follows: W. H. Lyman, president; H. T. Terry, vice president; F. W. Lay, secretary and treasurer; T. R. Stokes, general superintendent, and L. O. Scott, local manager.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND.

The late Green McCurtain, chief of the Choctaws, had a very high opinion of the business astuteness of white men.

"No Indian can get the better of a paleface," Chief McCurtain said to a Guthrie reporter during the recent Oklahoma investigation. "And when two palefaces get bargaining together, then it is like cutting diamonds with diamonds.

"Two Oklahoma palefaces once hunted in my camp. They spent the evening with me, and, over the fire and the firewater, they began to barter and traffic, and to make deals and dickers.

"Finally Bill said:

"'Sam, let trade hosses—my bay for your roan.'

"'It's a go,' Sam agreed. 'The trade's a go. Shake on it, partner.'

"They shook hands. Then Bill said with a loud laugh:

"'Sam, I've bested ye this time. My hoss is dead. Died yesterday.'

"'So's mine dead,' said Sam. 'Died this mornin'. And what's more, I've took his shoes off.'"

SOLD DRINKS IN HIS HOTEL ROOM

Riverside Hotel Keeper Makes Confession on Stand.

CITY COURT CASES

Roman Barthell, proprietor of the Riverside hotel which was raided Sunday night, got into the spotlight again today when he admitted on the witness stand in the city court that he had been selling drinks to a man and a woman in one of the rooms of his establishment. This room is not connected in any way with the bar and the police will probably make an investigation.

The evidence was brought out when John A. Bowers, a Garrett barber was on trial for drunkenness. He "butted" into the room in which the couple was drinking and was ejected. Then he opened a wicked looking knife with a long blade and offered to carve anybody who interfered with his right to roam at will through the hotel. He was fined $5 and costs and went to jail.

The Other Hearings.

A rolling mills employe who gave the name of E. Boltz, was fined $1 and costs for an assault upon Samuel H. Burton. The trouble started at a dance and was renewed in a West Main street pool room.

Albert Miller and Frank Brown, were fined $1 and costs each and Elmer Good got $5 and costs all for public intoxication.

ROBBERS RANSACK SWANN RESIDENCE

Family Absent from City Burglars Have Easy Job of It.

LOSS IS NOT KNOWN

The home of Mrs. Scott Swan, of 2531 Harrison street, which is closed for the winter, during Mrs. Swan's absence in Cleveland, where she is visiting her daughter, was ransacked Monday night by burglars, who gained entrance to the cellar by way of a window. Once in the cellar the knight of the jimmy proceeded to bore a hole in the door leading from the cellar to the main part of the house, and turning the bolt on the other side of the door.

The robbery was discovered this morning by the family next door, who have charge of the premises during Mrs. Swan's absence. They noticed a window up in the back part of the house, through which the burglars had taken their departure, and on investigation found that they were unable to unlock the front door, which had been bolted while the man or men were working. What the burglars succeeded in getting from the house for their work is not known on account of the absence of Mrs. Swan.

CLARK WANTS TO DODGE THE JAIL

NEW OF THE COURTS

Charlie Clark was in the circuit court this afternoon willing to plead guilty to the charge of running a blind tiger at the Arlington hotel if he could get any assurance that he would not have to serve a term in jail, but Prosecutor Thomas declined to make any such agreement and some time was spent in consultation between Clark and Attorneys Elmer Leonard and John W. Eggeman, who represented him.

He was not so particular about having the jail sentence stand against him if he could have gotten a promise that the sentence would be suspended and in absence of any such agreement he was in doubt what to do.

His wife, Clara B. Clark, was with him and she is included in the affidavit charging the keeping of a house of illfame. They were willing to plead guilty to this and get the same fines that the others charged with the same offense had to pay. No agreement as to this could be reached and the cases were set for trial April 6.

K. J. Bauer entered a plea of guilty to one charge of renting a house for immoral purposes and in the other he submitted evidence that he had sold the establishment to Fannie Schwartz for $15,000. The court did not take much stock in the plea and fined him $25 and costs and gave him the same jail sentence that the others got and suspended it.

The same action was taken in the cases of Otto Bonahoom and Tatia Rahal, his sister. They were fined $25 each in four cases and settled. The case against Bonahoom for perjury was continued until the next term of the circuit court.

for a brewery to run a saloon in Elkhart."

It was said this morning by a leading house democrat that about forty members of the majority in the lower house were in favor of a low license, or about where the majority of the committee has placed it.

"The house seems to be having its own way now," said Senator Proctor, "but my time will come."

Want Death Penalty to Stand.

Strong sentiment against the abolishing of the death penalty was manifest when the senate took up the Farlow bill on that subject.

Senator Curtis, of Mt. Vernon, declared that it was a dangerous thing to remove such a safeguard from the police authority of the state and that it was not because it was retained but only as a sufficient method of dealing with exceptional cases. Others who spoke against the bill were Senators Jackson, Moore, Kistler, Powers and Gavit.

Senator Farlow asserted that capital punishment was a relic of barbarism, that murder was an accident of passion and crime a disease. He presented statistics to show that in states which have done away with the death penalty crime has not increased. He was supported by Senators Grube and Shively.

Omnibus Fashion.

An omnibus of three bills was passed, including the Commons bill regarding the abandonment of cemeteries, the Statzenburg bill permitting cities with which trust funds have been left for the upkeep of cemeteries to invest them in city bonds, and the Ralls bill for the incorporation of Paoli, in Orange county.

Two other bills were passed, one being the Kimmel bill permitting county councils to levy a tax of one cent on the $100 for the support of county fairs, on petition of ten resident freeholders in each township of the county, the other being the Yarling bill creating a joint superior court in the counties of Shelby and Marion, the action being taken after the rules had been suspended.

Four new bills were offered, the important ones being the Woods bill for the prevention of tuberculosis among cattle and the Statzenburg bill providing that judges of superior courts shall be elected in office years.

Two Reports on Child Labor Bill.

The labor committee of the senate is ready to report on the Keegan child labor bills and two reports will be made. Chairman Beal, of the committee with Senator Jenkins, will sign a minority report providing that children be allowed to work nine hours a day and that the circuit judge may permit children below the age of 16 to work if he believes it essential that the law be disregarded.

The majority will report in favor of the bill.

Another effort was made today to get action on the Grube legislative reapportionment bill but it was withdrawn at the suggestion of the lieutenant governor on account of a number of democrats who were not in their seats. The majority report makes a few changes in the bill as drawn and advises its passage but a minority report signed by the republican members of the committee is for indefinite postponement.

MACCABEES WILL HOLD MEETING

Four Tents from Interurban Cities Will Hold Third Meeting of the Winter.

Kendallville, Ind., Feb. 21.—The next interurban meeting of the Knights of the Maccabees comprising the tents from Butler, Auburn, Garrett and this city, will be held in Kendallville March 8. This will be the third meeting of the league during the winter season and a very enjoyable event is promised.

The meetings in the past have been great successes as the attendance was good and much interest was taken. One of the features of the meeting is the strife between the various tents to have the honor of carrying off a large banner for securing the largest number of new members from one meeting to another.

At the last meeting this honor fell to the lot of the local tent and from present indications such will be the case at the meeting to be held here in March. Last Friday evening at the regular meeting of the organization six candidates were initiated and action was taken on eighteen applications with prospects of more before the expired time.

According to Record Keeper Elwood Freeman, of Kendallville tent, No. 52, the program committee will make arrangements for a special program consisting of addresses and music, and efforts are being made to secure a number of the great camp officers, who will deliver short addresses along fraternal lines.

DIES AT 65.

Active Career of Ex-Legislator Is Ended.

Hartford City, Ind., Feb. 21.—John P. McGeath, 65, democratic ex-member of the state legislature and twice honored by his party with election to the office of county treasurer, is dead at his home, No. 409 East Washington street. The end came Saturday evening, following an apoplectic attack with which he had been stricken in the morning. He passed peacefully from a state of coma to everlasting sleep which brought welcome relief from years of invalidism and suffering.

The death of Mr. McGeath removes a man who was long prominent in the commercial and political life of Hartford City and Blackford county.

Besides the brother and two sisters, the wife and one daughter, Lois, and the two children by a former marriage are the only surviving members of the immediate family.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. McCormick, of the Christian church, at the house this morning at 10 o'clock.

Cures Pimples Quickly.

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past Meyer Bros. Co. have done the biggest business they ever had in any one article in selling Hokara, the skin food that has won so many friends in Fort Wayne.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion, blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not heal, and its action is so instantaneous that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative powers, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, Meyer Bros. Co. will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c; larger size 50c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.

NATIONAL GUARDS WANT ARMORY SITE

Defiance Boosters Circulate Subscription Papers to Raise Money.

Defiance, O., Feb. 21.—Subscription papers were circulated yesterday for the purchase of a site for an armory for Company G and the Sixth Regiment band. The state will provide from $25,000 to $30,000 for the building if the city will provide the land. But if Defiance is to have any prospects for getting the armory this year, the site must be settled upon at once.

The subscriptions were circulated in the upper and lower business sections of the city, and payments were not required unless the site chosen, or one equally agreeable, is selected. Options on suitable pieces of ground were obtained in advance.

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that this must be done at once. A delay of a few days will make it impossible for Defiance to come within the appropriations for this year, and if a $30,000 armory is worth having at all, it is worth having now.

WILL VOTE SOON.

Columbia City Will Decide the Liquor Question.

Columbia City, Ind., Feb. 21.—The voters of this city will have a chance to decide the "wet and dry" question in a very short time unless some unforeseen obstacle arises. The election is scheduled to take place some time during the coming month and the anti-saloon faction has been putting forth all its efforts to secure the signatures of the required twenty per cent. Members of the Ministerial association have been doing the soliciting and up to the present time only a few names are lacking.

Eight men have applied for saloon licenses in the city and now it only remains to be seen whether the town will be "dry" or "wet" before the eight applicants are passed upon. Only two of the men applying were involved in the recent raids on the "blind tigers" of this city.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

ARRESTED FOR THEFT.

Youth Under Parole Must Again Answer Charges.

Huntington, Ind., Feb. 21.—Kenneth Hare, a lad of the south side, and who has been suspected of committing the many petty robberies in south side homes the last few weeks, was caught red handed in the act of burglarizing the M. M. Souers residence Sunday evening and is now in jail awaiting trial. The Souers home has been entered on several occasions and Sunday the family asked for police protection. Deputy Chris Bischoff stayed in the Souers home all afternoon and took up his station in the evening after Mr. and Mrs. Souers went to church. Shortly after dark young Hare tried the front door with a skeleton key, but it refused to work. He then went to a window and gained entrance to the house. As soon as he was on the inside Deputy Bischoff ordered him to throw up his hands, which the young man did instantly. Bischoff soon had him in his power and kept him in the house until Mr. and Mrs. Souers returned from church. From there the young robber was escorted to the county jail.

For a long time Hare has been known to commit petty thieveries. He was once sent to the state reform school and is now out under parole.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

Why Not Shave It Off? If you Do It Right, It Does It Better Than Most Depilatories.

You might just as well shave as use a pasty substance which is to be applied to remove superfluous hair. This simply removes the surface hair; therefore the effect is the same as shaving, only the razor is more convenient and takes it off cleaner. Of course, it does not matter which way you do it; you only remove the surface hair, which will return stronger after each removal. The same applies to other worthless compounds and so-called "liquid cures." De Miracle is not like these; it is the only method that gives proof that it is absolutely non-poisonous, safe and sure. You are not asked to buy it on our BARE WORD. It is the only preparation of its kind which is endorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals, prominent magazines and newspapers. Remember, the longer you use such treatments as those referred to above the stronger the hair will grow and the harder it will be to remove it. De Miracle is sold at all good stores, including Wolf & Dessauer.

No honest dealer will offer you a substitute on which he makes more profit.

We will send you a 52-page booklet containing full information concerning this remarkable treatment. You should read this booklet before you try anything. Write to the De Miracle Chemical Co., Dept. E 9, 1005 Park Ave., New York, simply saying you want this booklet, and it will be mailed, sealed, at once.

Note—All readers of this paper who are afflicted with superfluous hair growths are strongly advised to write for information concerning this wonderful method, which is endorsed the World over by eminent authorities, who have made a lifelong study of this subject.

NEW MARTTENE STORE.

Music House Secures Larger Quarters and Presents Model Features

Patrons and friends of the M. J. Marttene Piano company will be interested in knowing that this store has found a new home. It is a step forward in more ways than one, inasmuch as the new home is located on the second floor and now occupies more than double the space it had before. For some time Mr. Marttene has contemplated a change of this kind, in line with many of the music stores of the larger cities, and when the opportunity came to lease his old quarters to the Worsted Mills company for its ready-to-wear store he unhesitatingly accepted the offer.

Mr. Marttene has certainly created one of the most artistic and well appointed music stores to be found anywhere. It embraces the floors over the former store and that of J. H. Young, adjoining, making a total of 5,500 square feet. The main salesroom is commodious, is well lighted and has acoustic properties that are so much needed in a music salesroom. At times this part of the store will be converted into a recital hall, which will be one of the attractive features of the store several times a year. The arrangement provides a room for the exhibit and demonstration of player pianos, the furnishings of which are mission. This room also has accommodations for more than 1,000 rolls of player music. There is a room for the exhibit of second-hand pianos and a repair room. A large elevator has been put in for Mr. Marttene's exclusive use, by which means instruments are conveyed to and from the store.

Hardwood floors, with tasteful wall decorations and floor coverings, present an aspect of refinement that is in keeping with the musical art, reflecting its home-like inspiration throughout.

The broad staircase leading to the store is in itself inviting and altogether pleasing to the eye. Mr. Marttene can well congratulate himself upon securing such convenient and pleasant quarters for his popular store, and his splendid judgment in producing such a handsome arraignment is worthy of a compliment.

Since coming to Fort Wayne Mr. Marttene has adhered strictly to the finer principles of the music trade, and has done all in his power to elevate the trade. As a result of his careful and honorable methods he today enjoys the confidence of the people who come his way and will continue to make many friends.

BACKACHE, RHEUMATISM, NERVOUSNESS.

Mrs. E. T. Schulz, Fort Wayne, Ind., "For three years I have suffered with my kidneys, having such pains in my back that I could not stoop over. My kidney action was too frequent and painful leaving a sediment. A friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills which I began taking according to directions. After a short time the pains left my back, the kidney action became perfectly normal and today I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills." Dreier Drug Co.

SUICIDE IS HINTED.

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 21.—The body of Clarence Lacey, a former young business man of this city, who died in San Pedro, Cal., several days ago, arrived yesterday morning and was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Johnson, 803 East Washington street. A brief funeral service was held at the Johnson residence yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, none but the relatives and close friends of the Lacey family attending.

The cause of his death has not been made public, but it has been intimated by friends that it was the result of suicide; this, however, has not been verified.

LAGRIPPE COUGHS

It is a reliable family medicine for all coughs and colds, and acts quickly and effectively in cases of croup. Remember the name Foley's Honey and Tar for all coughs and colds, for croup, bronchitis, hoarseness and for racking lagrippe coughs. No opiates. Refuse substitutes. Dreier Drug Co.

OF COURSE.

A man in a nearby town fell down the cellar steps the other day with a barrel of apples on top of him. He broke his left leg, his right arm, two ribs, his nose, one finger, cut his scalp, sprained his ankle and put his shoulder out of joint. But he didn't groan or cuss until his wife inquired if it "hurt him." Then he did both.—McLouth Times.

ACCUSED OF STEALING.

E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Me., boldly accuses Bucklen's Arnica Salve of stealing—the sting from burns or scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds—the distress from boils or piles. "It robs cuts, corns, bruises, sprains and injuries of their terror," he says, "as a healing remedy its equal don't exist." Only 25c at all druggists.

A GOOD REASON.

Fort Wayne People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are always lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys, helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache, headache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Fort Wayne people testify to permanent cures.

J. A. Collins, 1108 Delaware avenue, Fort Wayne, Ind., says: "About three years ago I was in a bad way with kidney complaint. My back pained me all the time and often I was unable to stoop or get up after sitting. Doctors seemed unable to help me and I was almost discouraged. Finally a friend induced me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I was surprised and delighted with the results. In six weeks this remedy restored me to good health and I have had no symptom of kidney complaint since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Cass Co. Man Cured of Eczema by Dr. Wells—Came Nearly 100 Miles for Treatments.

W. H. Kuhn, of Kewanna, Ind., reports a remarkable cure of eczema by Dr. Wells' electric process. Mr. Kuhn suffered over ten years during which time he never had a single whole night's rest, owing to the intense itching. After he took the first electric treatment in Dr. Wells' office he secured complete relief, and four treatments effected a perfect cure.

This is one of many similar cases cured by Dr. Wells. The fact that you have tried many remedies should not discourage you until you have seen the man who knows how to cure you.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

The new constitution proposed for Indiana will contain provisions for meeting exigencies that the present instrument does not contain. The initative and referendum is the means of absolute self-government. The people are given the way to go about the reforms that they may want without interminable waiting on hostile or influenced majorities in a legislature, and burdens cannot be imposed, injustices inflicted and ravishments perpetrated unless the people themselves be willing. Whether these features of modern popular constitutions come by the "Marshall plan" or otherwise is of small concern, merely so they come by a valid process. What is wanted is that Indiana's inelastic and archaic constitution be made responsive to modern needs and latter-day conditions. Making allowance for the artificial difference due entirely to partisan sentiments, the opposition to the proposal is self-interested and in some degree sinister. If the legislature does submit a new constitution to the people there will be abundant time for them to consider it and, whatever fate the people may decree for it, there will be intelligent familiarity with it, mature judgment upon it and well-advised action concerning it. But the people will wisely keep in mind that the new constitution it is proposed to submit contains the provisions for making self-government almost practically direct whenever the people desire that it shall be that way. A deal of dust has been kicked up and much reek of partisan controversy fills the air, but the great central fact of the new constitution which will place the government of Indiana in the hands of her people cannot be obscured. That is the paramount question in this new constitution controversy.

WILL ENCOURAGE VOTING.

The commission form of government drawn for this city has admirable points. It contemplates government as the business of the people to be transacted upon recognized and approved business principles. But alas! it has one defect beyond remedy.

It cannot make the voter vote.

Much of the trouble with municipal government germinates in this fact. Men who at the very least must have a decent citizen's abstract interest in good government sidestep the voting booth. The men who have more than a citizen's interest in government never do that, nor do they permit their friends, their hangers on or their employed retainers to do that. Hence.

The commission form of government cannot prevent these conditions but it modifies the worst evils of them and at least prevents political alliances that foster and aggravate them.

It may be—and we see a glimmer of hope—that the newer form of government, if adopted, will persuade the voter to vote even if it cannot make him. He will in any event be deprived of his canned-goods excuse that "politics is dirty" and he doesn't want to "meddle with it," for in the old meaning of the term there will be no "politics."

The commission plan promises many reforms, but if it held out nothing better than the tendency it will have to bring to the polls the men who ought to be but seldom are there, it will be altogether worth while.

Said the Arkansaw squatter whose hut had a great hole in the roof: "Yaas, it sure is some hole stranger, an' lets in a power o' water; but when it rains I cain't fix it and when it don't rain I don't need to." Speaking of this lovely weather, when they're muddy you can't clean 'em and when they're not what do you suppose is to become of the man who drives the water cart? Otherwise we have 65,000 people, fifty miles of paved streets and have a fine atmosphere—moral esthetic and just common air. But they'll get a cleaning after while. The streets, that is.

That will be a hard blow to Frisco if the Japs come over, destroy their town and make it look as though the earthquake had come back. But it won't be half as fierce as that the Japs shall blow the Panama canal into unnavigable zigzags and extinguish all occasion for that big exposition in 1915. That's where the little brown man is going to get his evens and interest on 'em for all he's suffered by reason of anti-Asiatic prejudices in the coast metropolis.

Two weeks remain of congress and little more than that of the Indiana legislature. President Taft and Governor Marshall can pull straws to see which is the gladdest.

Captain-Congressman Hobson has the American war with Japan figured out for a beginning within the present year. The Alabama tocsin is bringing it closer. The last time predicted was about three years ago and he then had the mikado coming down like the wolf on the fold in less than two years from the date of the prophecy. Of course the answer is that Japan wasn't ready or she would have arrived as per Hobson schedule. She will have to come on this time or be put in the books as afraid and no fighter. We opine that Captain-Congressman Hobson will insist on some kind of action for his predicting.

What is there inherent in the fact of a senate—state or bigger—that constitutes it an inveitable resistance to progress. Take the United States senate, for instance; or the Indiana senate for another instance and as striking even if smaller example of it. Simply cannot progress without a spur. Something in the name evidently for the condition is general in the land and just as exasperating anywhere as in Indiana.

The illicit liquor sellers in several dry towns in northern Indiana appear to have taken it for granted that repeal of the county option law left the state fenceless to whisky peddling. The operation of "blind tigers," "blind pigs," "bootleggers" and the like have been rather strenuous and uncommonly bold. In a number of places the raids have produced striking results.

The liquor regulation bill in the legislature continues in the uncertain stage of growth and change. Looks as though the difference 'twixt tweedledum and tweedledee might finally be sufficient to leave the Indiana liquor code just where it is. Senator Proctor declares, however, that his measure will be enacted and that it will be right when it is.

It must make President Taft a bit sore at himself to think what might have been had he begun it a couple of years sooner. Not easy to get back to the fond embrace of the people, but the president is finding the way. In his way he makes as good a center as the other 'un.

The postal savings bank is represented as a mighty good thing as demonstrated in the places where it has been established, but there seems to be a deal of reluctance to make provisions for passing it on to other places that might fare quite as well with the institution.

Congressman Sheppard, of Texas, appears to have founded an evanescent fame by his characterization of Colonel Roosevelt as the "human Seidlitz powedr." Not a rational metaphor. As an effervescence the colonel is an unlimited repeater.

It may be that Mr. Lorimer will be allowed to keep his seat, but that will not alter the general impression as to the way it was got for him.

Senator Aldrich has declared his approval of the Canadian reciprocity agreement. That ought to be 'nough said.

Mr. Taft in a quieter fashion is considerable of a colonel.

THE INDIANA CONSTITUTION.

(Chicago Tribune.)

The constitution of Indiana has been modified but little since it was adopted in 1851, and Gov. Marshall thinks that in many particulars it does not fit modern conditions. Therefore he has suggested a number of changes which in the main meet with the approval of the democratic members of the legislature. Indiana is better off than Illinois in that any number of amendments can be submitted at one time, but none can be submitted without the approval of two successive general assemblies.

Most of the proposed amendments naturally are of interest to Indianians only, but there are a few which deserve notice. Indiana, like many another state, has suffered from crude legislative methods. There has been a jam of business at the close of a session. Needed measures have been killed and bad ones have slipped through. Gov. Marshall's remedy is that the general assembly shall remain in session for forty-five days, during which bills may be considered and amended, but none passed unless there be an emergency declared by a two-thirds vote. Then the legislature shall adjourn for sixty days, and on reassembling dispose of the unfinished business, no new legislation to be introduced which cannot command a two-thirds vote. This should have a tendency to cut down the number of bills introduced and secure more deliberate consideration for those which deserve attention. The two months' recess would give constituents an opportunity to let their representatives know what they thought of pending legislation and the governor an opportunity to familiarize himself with it.

Another amendment empowers the general assembly to pass laws providing for the initiative, referendum and recall, both of state and local application, "but no bill for the recall of the judiciary shall ever be passed." That tells what Gov. Marshall thinks of the most radical provision of the Arizona constitution.

Still another amendment is designed to remove the obstacle to the enforcement of a workman's compulsory compensation law. The Indiana constitution reads: "All courts shall be open, and every man, for injury done him in person, property, or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law." To these words it is proposed to add: "But the legislature may enact a workman's compulsory compensation law." Then both employer and employe would be bound by the law, and there would be no room for litigation.

WHAT AN ACCOUNT BOOK DOES.

(A Barton Hepburn, in Leslie's.)

A bank note, with check book and stubs, is the easiest way of keeping a cash account, and then you have the bank to prove your account for you. The cash register is a means of keeping accounts of receipts and payments, combined with a "bell-punch" upon honesty. System is an indispensable requisite of successful business; honesty and ability will not succeed without it. The first step in this direction on the part of youth is keeping a personal cash account. The orderly setting down of receipts and expenditures, confronting one's self with what has been expended and for what purpose, carries a continual moral, a warning if need be, and a lesson in responsibility. The balance, the proof, the test bring home the power and responsibility of receiving and spending.

SCALES BROKE OUT ALL OVER HER BODY

Scalp Affected, Hair Began to Fall. Hands So Disfigured She Had to Wear Gloves All the Time. Two Hospitals Unable to Assure Cure.

First Application of Cuticura Soap and Ointment Allayed Itching. Psoriasis Has Disappeared.

"Allow me to say a few words in praise of the Cuticura Remedies. About three years ago, I was affected by white scales on my knees and elbows. I consulted a doctor who treated me for ringworm. I saw no change and consulted a specialist and he claimed I had psoriasis. I continued treatments under him for about six months until I saw scales breaking out all over my body save my face. My scalp was affected, and my hair began to fall. I then changed doctors to no avail. I went to two hospitals and each wanted to make a study of the case and seemed unable to cure it or assure me of a cure. I tried several patent medicines and was finally advised by a friend who has used Cuticura on her children since their birth, to purchase the Cuticura Remedies. I purchased a cake of Soap, the Ointment and the Resolvent. After the first application, the itching was allayed.

"I am still using the Soap and Ointment and now feel that none other is good enough for my skin. The psoriasis has disappeared and I everywhere feel better. My hands were so disfigured before using the Cuticura Remedies that I had to wear gloves all the time. Now my body and hands are looking fine." (Signed) Miss Sara Burnett, 2135 Fitzwater St., Philadelphia, Pa., Sept 30, '10.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, for free book on affections of the skin and scalp.

FEAR FOR FORT M'HENRY.

A Historic Spot May Be Deprived of Its Protection.

(New York Tribune.)

The withdrawal of a part of the garrison of Fort McHenry renews apprehension concerning the ultimate fate of that historic place. There have been intimations of the entire withdrawal of the garrison and the abandonment of the fort as a military post, and perhaps of its transformation for other uses. Beyond doubt, practical considerations of military administration must largely prevail in such matters. A garrison cannot be continued where it is not needed or where it could not be useful, and a fortification cannot be maintained as such merely for the sake of sentiment and historical associations.

However, the fort in something like its historic aspect should be retained. Steps have been taken to protect Mount Vernon from the intrusion of undesirable neighbors, even at a distance of miles. Fort McHenry is not the equal of Mount Vernon in patriotic and historical interest. And yet the spot which inspired the writing of our national anthem surely should be held of too much interest to permit its abandonment to desolation or its degradation to the uses of a cattle pen.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Sidney Drew in Daly Theater Comedy.

When that splendid comedian, Sidney Drew, comes to the Majestic on Thursday night, in the football comedy, "Billy," there will be something doing in the fun line and anybody with worry and trouble can forget it for a few hours anyway. "Billy" is that delightful comedy which was originally produced at Daly's theater, in New York city, and cheered the great metropolis for a long run. It played all last summer at the Cort theater, Chicago, and now comes direct from an immensely successful engagement at the Majestic theater, Boston. Mr. Sidney Drew will be the star of the occasion and will bring with him the original production, and what is more pleasing, the original New York cast. According to all that has been said and written, "Billy" ought to enliven the dramatic season here in good shape, for while it is clean and wholesome, it is said to be a riot of fun and laughter.

POSTOFFICE SUNDAY CLOSING.

Views of the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

(From Annual Report of Third Assistant Postmaster General.)

It is the policy of the department not to require any more work in postoffices on Sundays and holidays than is absolutely necessary to prevent congestion of the mails and to provide reasonable postal facilities for the public. To this end the department is endeavoring to bring about a greater degree of uniformity in the amount of Sunday work in postoffices throughout the country and to provide a day of rest for those employes who are compelled to work all day on Sunday. Reports from postmasters, however, indicate a wide difference in the amount of Sunday service, even in offices in the same locality and of the same grade. In practically all cities where city free delivery is in operation letter carriers are required to report on Sunday and route their mail for the first delivery Monday morning and to deliver mail for an hour or more to those who call at the windows. Practically one-half of the carriers are thus on duty every other Sunday. On holidays, as a general rule, one delivery of mail by letter carriers is made. In the mailing division of postoffices a considerable percentage of the clerks are on duty every Sunday for eight hours and a smaller percentage in the delivery division. This work is necessary and can not be curtailed, but in most instances it is possible to allow compensatory time off on other days of the week. As a rule, the money order, registry and stamp windows are closed on Sundays.

There is a very strong sentiment throughout the country in favor of the discontinuance of the delivery of mail on Sundays, and this sentiment should be respected. Postal employes are undoubtedly entitled to one day of rest in seven. All reputable commercial and industrial establishments close on Sundays. To accommodate the traveling public and those who have important personal mail arriving on Sundays it may be necessary to keep the general delivery window open, but it is the experience of the department that with th growing use of the special delivery service urgent messages requiring attention on Sunday are not sent in the ordinary mail and that calling at the postoffice on Sunday for mail is usually a matter of habit rather than necessity. It is, therefore, believed that, sustained by public sentiment, the department will find it practicable to so curtail the delivery service as to make it possible eventually to relieve nearly all carriers from duty on Sunday and that with the co-operation of the postmasters it is feasible to provide one day of rest in seven for all cerks and carriers without any increase in force.

If the plan of discontinuing entirely Sunday service by letter carriers, which is now being tried in a number of the larger cities, where the sentiment of the communitie sis strongly in favor of Sunday closing, proves practicable, it would seem that the desired result may be attained without legislation.

NO STRIKE OF BARBERS.

Possibility of a strike of the journeymen barbers in Fort Wayne was removed Monday night when workmen and master barbers came together in a compromise agreement under which a new wage scale was signed, giving the men $12 per week and fifty per cent. of receipts above $18, with 65 per cent. of earnings for broken weeks.

While the old scale has been $10 per week and fifty per cent. above $16, most of the shops have been paying better wages than this for the past two years. There was more haggling over the "broken week" question than over the straight scale, but in the future the barber who works but part of a week will receive a wage of 65 per cent. of the sum taken in at his chair.

WOMAN BLAMES DRINKING FOR MISFORTUNE OF MANY GIRLS.

Head of Reformatory for Young Women Denounces Use of Champagne by "The Classes"—"Every Girl in Wayside Home Because of Drink"—Mrs. Mary J. Annable Tells of Problems Confronting Women in Rescue Work.

New York, Feb. 21.—"Champagne drunk by young women of the classes filches virtue as beer does the girls of the masses.

"The liberty we give our young men and women too often proves their debaser.

On these facts does Mrs. Mary Jane Annable, superintendent of rescue work for girls, base the result of her experience of twenty years as secretary of the board of managers of the Wayside Home for Girls, the only protestant reformatory for girls on Long Island.

Mrs. Annable has for seventeen years been state superintendent of the department of rescue work for girls of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Seventeen times she has visited in Europe and in Africa and twice she has traveled through the orient. In an interview Mrs. Annable declared that from her own personal experience vice has a wider scope in New York state than in any other country in the world.

Charms Are Veiled.

"In repeated visits to the countries called heathen," she said, "I find positive prevention of woman's downfall. Moslem women are veiled, their forms covered with flowing robes that no man may see the beauty of face and figure; for Mohammedans believe our sex cannot be self-protecting and therefore self-respecting.

China has bound the feet of women of the highest classes, and the real Chinese lady cannot walk without the assistance of at least two maids, cannot walk by herself, and is therefore constantly under the surveillance of a servant. The late emperor proclaimed that no woman lost caste by unbinding her feet. The orientals believe their women cannot be trusted.

"In Shanghai I said to a member of the literati who boasted of China's antiquity, and that she had civilization long before the Christian era, 'but you keep in slavery one-tenth of your population.'

"With quiet scorn he replied, 'Madame Americana, your United States government maintains the greatest slave market in the world. It sells for money license to bind and kill. You have thousands of "white slaves."' This was in 1900. I did not then know the meaning of that compound word which now even the children understand.

Blames Intoxicants.

"For over twenty years I have been secretary of the only Presbyterian reformatory for girls on Long Island—the Wayside home at No. 256 Bridge street, Brooklyn, where girls are committed by the courts during their minority, and which receives voluntary applicants who desire to get away from their temptations and be guided into better living. Every girl who has been there traces her downfall to strong drink.

"As state Woman's Christian Temperance superintendent, I have obtained 101 county and local superintendencies. In 1910 we reformed 842 girls who were unfortunates. The drinking girl who has had much money finds it hard to work, but these have persevered and toiled early and late to be honorably self-supporting and make for themselves new and good names.

"There is always work a man can find to do. But where can the disgraced young girl find work? Under such disadvantage is not the fact that out of 900 girls we have helped, 842 are today sober, helpful factors in the world of labor, worthy of commendation? There is no tragedy comparable to a wrecked life.

"Who cares if the children become criminals? A host of men and women sneer at the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, members who not only guard their own from drink, but as far as is in their power the children of others.

"What is the original cause of mischief and dishonesty? Whence come the children arrested for theft? How come they to begin to steal? Insufficient food in their homes, half starved, not properly clothed, they appease their hunger from grocers and steal shoes and clothing exposed for sale. They never had the fair chance our commonwealth ought to provide.

"Prevention is better than correction. It is in the homes only that this can be proved. Then not only will our children be creditable citizens, but there will be fifty per cent. fewer girls in institutions and white slavery will to a great extent be abolished.

The guests arrived with well laden baskets of supper and the dining room table was soon set with an array of good things to eat. A game of progressive pedro occupied a part of the time, and arrangements were made for dancing. During the evening Mr. Mansdorfer was presented with a handsome Masonic pin. Mrs. L. Tegtmeyer and Mrs. Marahrens planned the surprise on Mr. and Mrs. Mansdorfer and Mr. Marahrens made the presentation speech when the pin was given to Mr. Mansdorfer. It was a very happy occasion marred only by the fact of the approaching separation of a company of neighbors and friends.

The supper table was decorated with white hyacinths and ferns and lighted with green candles in crystal candlesticks. A TALK WITH MOTHER.

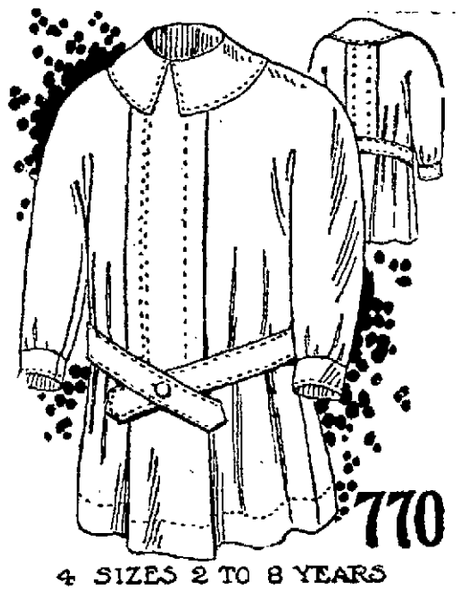
By MRS. JANE FORD.



It is quite natural that a mother should want to see her child nicely dressed, and that she should plan for it all kinds of dainty pretty frocks. However, it is a mistake not to let comfort and durability be the first consideration when selecting materials and styles for the little morning frocks. It is not just to the child to dress it in clothes that must be given so much consideration that the little one is deprived of good, healthful exercise.

White is always pretty, and it is a great temptation to use it for all their little dresses, but unless it is perfectly fresh and clean it loses its attractiveness. To have it look well necessitates frequent laundering, which, if sent out, is expensive, and when done at home requires a great deal of time. It seems more sensible, therefore, to select for every day frock light colored, plaid ginghams, striped percales or colored linens, and to make them in a plain, simple way that does not require a great deal of time. In the same way the wise mother will avoid elaborate trimming, which saves expense, the time to apply it, and also one's patience, for it is very difficult to arrange insertions, edgings and tucks.

Many of the now models have the sleeves and body portion cut in one, which style is particularly smart when developed in heavy linens and like weaves. For early spring wear the new designs in X galatea are charming, and will be exceedingly pretty, made after the style of the frock pictured. The collar and sleeve bands will be effective, cut from plain all over Hamburg embroidery and the edges finished with a bias band of the dress material.

To make the dress for a girl eight years of age, it requires two and three-quarters yards of goods twenty-seven inches wide, or two and one-eighth yards forty-four inches wide.

A FEW LUNCHEON CHEESE DISHES.

By Jeannette Young Norton.

Cheese dishes have come into such general use that they are now looked upon in most households as part of the daily menu. Cream cheese dishes are especially popular, and at-home cooks are experimenting to find the most tempting way to serve them.

Many people find that the cheese which may be purchased in the package quite satisfactory, but others prefer making it at home. Thus cooks carefully save all their sour cream. They turn it into a cheesecloth bag wet with cold water, and let it drain over night, then they remove it and season it with a dash of cayenne pepper and salt, after which it is moulded into any desired shape or shapes and placed on ice until needed. Sometimes it is served with sweet cream for breakfast or luncheon, or sometimes put through a ricer and served as a salad on white lettuce leaves with French dressing poured over it.

The English Way.

The approved English way of making the cheese is to turn three pints of heavy cream into a cheesecloth bag that has been wrung out of cold water. This is hung for seven or eight days in a cool place, then changed into a fresh bag. A heavy weight is pressed on it for two days, when it is ready for use. It will cut down like butter. Sometimes it is cut into squares and served on toast sippets with the salad course.

A delicious sandwich may be made by beating the cheese with pepper and salt and enough sweet cream to make a paste, then spread on a lettuce leaft between two daintily sliced, toasted and buttered rounds of brown bread. A decorative salad is made from cheese highly seasoned and powdered, to which nuts are added. It may be made into little balls with a half walnut pressed at either side like a bonbon, arranged on lettuce leaves and covered with heavy mayonnaise.

A Frozen Salad.

This frozen salad is rather a novelty and very good, too, and is also good to serve at a heavy dinner, instead of an ice or frozen punch.

To make it best one package of cream cheese with a quarter of a cup of sweet cream, six finely chopped raisins, a little salt, paprika, a dash of sugar, a tablespoonful of sherry and a teaspoonful of powdered pecans. Mix well, turn into a freezer, but do not freeze hard. Remove in time to mould, then pack in ice until ready to serve, when it is to be sliced onto lettuce leaves and covered with mayonnaise made without mustard.

Novel Sandwiches.

Beat one package of cream cheese with four finely chopped Brazil nuts and a teaspoon of strawberry jam, adding whipped cream enough to make a paste to spread. Add a teaspoon of very finely chopped celery and a little paprika, mix well and spread between thin slices of rye bread and cut in diamond shapes.

Cucumber Sandwich Salad.

Pare a slender cucumber with a knife that scallops the edges of the slices. Make a rich paste of the cheese, chopped olives, nuts, juice of a small onion, finely chopped celery and season with salt and cayenne pepper. Spread the paste between two slices of the cucumber and lay the tiny sandwiches on the lettuce leaves, cover with mayonnaise, garnishing the salad with small strips of green pepper and olives.

Small Courtesies of Life

By Jeannette Young Norton.

There are so many little acts of kind courtesy one is called upon to perform in daily life that it is perhaps not a bad idea to inform one's self how they should be done most efficiently and gracefully.

If asked, for instance, to give a letter of introduction, remember it should be invariably handed to the friend unsealed. Courtesy demands this, as the person you are introducing may wish to know in what manner he or she was spoken of. If the person has a distinguishing talent or is in some way a person of affairs, such information should be conveyed to the person to whom the letter is addressed in a few well chosen words to that effect. This immediately places the new acquaintances on a footing of social understanding.

Letters of Introduction.

If you receive a letter from a friend introducing a person known and esteemed by the writer of the letter, it should be immediately answered and willingness expressed to carry out their wishes to the extent of their power.

All social invitations should be answered within a week of their arrival, as it is the hostesses right to know how many guests she may probably expect. Dinner or party calls should be made within ten days after the affair. Wedding presents should be seen as soon after the cards are received as possible, and acknowledged by the bride on her honeymoon trip, or as soon as she returns home. Personal letters of sympathy may be written to intimate friends in great bereavement, but to social acquaintances a visiting card with "sincere sympathy" written across it, followed in a short time by a call, is all that is expected.

Flowers for All Occasions.

Flowers sent under all conditions discharge any ordinary obligation if one does not care or has not the time to call personally. Perfumes, toilet articles, or any personal articles are never considered presents of good form. For a man to continually accept hospitality at a friend's house and never return it in any way makes him known as a social grafter. He can always send the hostess books, flowers, candies, fruit, or arrange a theatre party for her friends in order to show his appreciation of her kindness.

If a new baby is to be shown to friends let the nurse bring it into the room and hold it a few moments for inspection, then take it back to the nursery, as it is a great mistake to let persons with street wraps on handle it.

At a house party if any one of the guests feels the need of retiring early, she need only say good night to her hostess and slip away, for the hostess realizes that personal liberty in small matters is the acme of gentle breeding.

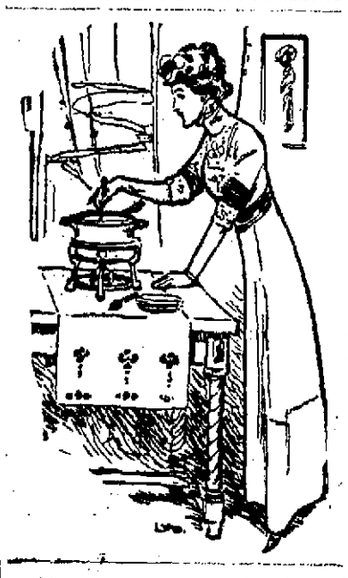
CHAFING DISH CHATTER

At a cooking lecture given not long ago before the nurses and internes of a large Brooklyn hospital, the demonstrator was importuned to give the recipes of some easily prepared and hearty dishes, that the men themselves could prepare when the schedule meal hours were over and they felt the need of refreshment. Among these dishes were the following:



Beefsteak in the Chafing Dish.

Make the blazer very hot, rub it with a bit of beef suet or butter and put in a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. When piping hot lay in the steak. If this has a fair amount of fat on it there will be no danger of it sticking. Cook three minutes and turn. Cook ten minutes longer, turning two or three times. When done anoint with butter, first turning off the light, then season with salt and pepper to taste. The cover should be put on the blazer after the butter goes on and it should be allowed to stand a moment or two to allow the butter to cook in. The Worcestershire sauce may be omitted if preferred.

Lamb Chops.

Chops may be cooked in the same way, only less time is required. When half done, pour over them one cupful of stewed tomatoes, in which a teaspoonful of flour and two tablespoonfuls soup stock have been stirred. Then finish the cooking. To serve lamb chops with maitre d'hotel sauce, grease the hot blazer lightly with butter and lay in the chops. The blazer should be hot enough to sear the surface of the meal at once, so that no juice will escape. Have ready a heaping tablespoonful of butter into which has been worked a teaspoonful of lemon juice, the same amount of minced parsley and a little paprika, or white pepper. Put this on the chops, cover the blazer, having the flame turned off, let stand a moment, then serve.

English Peas.

Drain a can of peas. Put into the blazer a tablespoonful of butter, a teaspoonful each of flour and sugar and a level teaspoonful of salt. When the butter bubbles add the peas, cook five minutes, add a cupful of rich milk, simmer five minutes longer, using the hot water jar under the blazer, then serve.

Panned Oysters.

Melt two and a half tablespoonfuls of butter in the chafing dish, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, salt and pepper to season, add a teaspoonful of Chili sauce. Add one pint of oysters with their liquor, cool, until the oysters plump and begin to ruffle, add a tablespoonful finely chopped parsley, and twice as much finely chopped celery. Serve at once on toast.

Oysters a la Creole.

Put into the chafing dish blazer a pint of oysters, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a stalk of celery cut fine and a cupful of cream. When the edges of the oysters begin to cockle, add salt to season and a half cupful of sherry and serve on toast.

Scrambled Eggs.

Beat five eggs slightly, add a half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper and a half cupful milk, cream or simply water. Melt two tablespoonfuls butter in the blazer, pour in the egg mixture, and cook until of a creamy consistency, stirring constantly and scraping from the bottom of the pan. Serve plain or on toast.

A CRYSTAL EDDING.

The fifteenth anniversary is called the crystal wedding. Decorate the house with every sort of appropriate glass thing, and with flowers. For serving the supper have dishes of glass. Souvenirs could be tiny pocket mirrors; men as well as women like them. Or if you can have more expensive ones it would be nice to give out glass articles of any kind for the women, and for the men cut glass inkstands, pen trays, paper weights, or knife and fork rests, if the man is the carver at his home.

The table centre piece should be a large mirror supporting a glass vase of flowers. To accompany this tiny glass vases might be at each plate holding a flower or nosegay. These could be used as the souvenirs in place of others.

For games choose from any book of entertainments, which you can get in any public library, one that will suit your rooms or guests. A proper gown for the hostess would be something trimmed with beads.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

Grateful: (1) I am glad you like my canthrox shampoo recipe. Do not use more than one teaspoonful to a cup of water, as that is sufficient to thoroughly cleanse the scalp and make the hair soft and glossy. (2) I cannot recommend a face powder which will not rub off, but would suggest trying the following, which is the most delightful toilet preparation you can use: Get four ounces of Spurmax from the drug store and dissolve in half-pint of hot water, then add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, shake well and let cool. Use this instead of powder. It will clear the pores and give the skin a smooth and satiny feeling impossible with powder. This inexpensive toilet preparation acts as a complexion beautifier, and the sallow, lifeless color of your skin will soon give way to a ruddy glow of youthful health.

Ilene: Your embarrassment over the downy growth on your arms will be of short duration if you will use a little powdered delatone. Get from the druggist an ounce of powdered delatone, and with a little mix enough water to make a paste. Spread thickly on offending hairs and let remain two or three minutes, then remove and wash the skin carefully. While delatone is a trifle expensive, it never fails, and seldom is a second application necessary. To insure results, be careful to get the pure delatone.

Mrs. Pat: Cold weather should not be an excuse for neglecting the hair and scalp. The reason you always catch cold after a shampoo is because the mixture you employ opens the pores and robs the hair follicles of their oily secretion. This causes the scalp to become dry and hard and makes the hair brittle and difficult to manage. If you use canthrox for shampooing once a week for a while, you can soon correct this condition and avoid future colds after washing the head. A teaspoonful of canthrox dissolved in a teacup of hot water is ample for a good shampoo, and if the scalp is carefully massaged with this, it will remove dust and dandruff, and stimulate the hair follicles to healthy action, and the hair will become long, glossy and abundant.

X. Y. Z.: Your husband has a right to object to your using greasy creams. Such treatment will not overcome an oily complexion, but if you prepare the following inexpensive massage cream daily your troubles will soon end: Get an ounce of almozoin from your druggist and dissolve in half-pint of water, add two teaspoonfuls glycerine, stir well and let stand a few hours. Massaging at night with this soon cleans and clears the skin, corrects a faulty complexion and prevents wrinkles.

Cora B.: Lack of fresh air and sufficient exercise makes sluggish blood, deranges the liver and is responsible for the pimply condition of your face. If you use a good tonic it will throw off impurities, regulate the system and your complexion will clear and become soft and rosy. Here is a good recipe: Get an ounce of kardene from the drug store and dissolve in half-pint alcohol, adding one-half cup sugar, then hot water to make a full quart. A tablespoonful of this inexpensive tonic before meals will renew your health and energy and bring back the bloom of health to the cheeks.

Mrs. D.: You ask for a harmless fat reducer. The only reliable one I know is the parmotis recipe, which is inexpensive and easily made. Get from the druggist four ounces of parmotis and dissolve in 1½ pints hot water. The dose is a tablespoonful before each meal, and if these simple directions are followed you will soon regain your normal weight. The pleasant feature of this treatment is you do not have to starve yourself or indulge in violent exercise to obtain desired results.

Lois: At your age your eyes should have their youthful sparkle, but they need attention the same as your body. Here is an old and reliable formula for an eye tonic which is inexpensive: Dissolve an ounce of crystos in a pint of warm water. One or two drops in each eye removes foreign particles, relieves burning and smarting and reduces inflammation. It is also good for tired, aching eyes and makes them clear and sparkling. You can get crystos in any drug store.

R. F. D.: It is foolish for you to pay a fancy price for a quinine hair tonic when you can make a good one at home at trifling cost. If you will get an ounce of quinzoin from the druggist and dissolve it in one-half pint alcohol, then add water to make a pint, you will have as good hair tonic as money can buy. Rubbing a little well into the hair roots each night tones and strengthens the scalp and hair and keeps it in healthy condition. You will not be troubled with dandruff or falling hair if you use this tonic, and the hair will grow long, abundant and glossy.

IS VINDICATED AFTER 30 YEARS

Rev. Charles Burdette is no Longer Under Cloud of Suspicion.

FIND MISSING MONEY

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 21.—Rev. Charles Edwin Burdette, brother of "Bob" Burdette, the humorist, has been vindicated after thirty years of any blame in connection with the disappearance of $3,500 from a registered letter package sent out by the Peoria postoffice, of which he was registery clerk.

The disappearance of the money had been a cloud on Burdette's life in this, his home town, and turned many of his old friends against him.

The money had been put in twelve registered letters by the late John Comstock. The evidence was all against young Burdette and after the first investigation Comstock demanded that Gen. D. W. Magee, then postmaster at Peoria, who died last year, discharge the registry clerk.

Believed Honest by Postmaster.

Comstock carried the matter to Washington and an inspector came down from Chicago to make a full report. He recommended that Burdette be discharged, but the postmaster refused to discharge him and Burdette continued as registry clerk.

Burdette was working to get money to study for the ministry. A few years after the money was missed he left the postoffice and went to Brown university, then to Newton academy, and when he was ordained as a minister was assigned as a missionary in Asam, India. He now has a pastorate at Springfield, Mass. All this time he prayed that in some way the mystery of the missing money might be cleared up for his own vindication.

Missing Money is Found.

Into the repair shop at San Francisco a few days ago an old battered sack was sent to be patched. It was a veteran, and to repair it meant practically to make a new sack. The first man to inspect the sack decided it needed a new bottom and, with a knife, he ripped the leather bottom off.

Then he saw above it a big manila envelope caught by the corners, which served practically as a false bottom. He opened the envelope and found it to contain the twelve Comstock letters and the missing $3,500, which had been wandering about the country for thirty years. When the finding of the money was reported to the Peoria postoffice friends telegraphed to the Rev. Mr. Burdette that the cloud hanging over him so long had been dispelled.

HIGH IDEALS.

Paul Morton, in a paper on "The World's Business," that he read before the Quill club in New York, said: "I consider the Standard Oil company, the United States Steel corporation, and the American Tobacco company to be battleships in the nation's war for world commercial supremacy."

Mr. Morton, discussing this assertion afterward, said, with a smile:

"The concerns I have mentioned have an ideal of business efficiency such as the world has never seen before. Theirs, indeed, is so high an ideal that it reminds me of a famous New York theatrical manager.

"This manager is noted for the exquisite beauty of his stage settings. The other day, rehearsing a moonlight scene, he found fault with the moon. First the moon was too bright, then it was too dull. Now its beams were too yellow, and now they were too pale. Finally, after holding up the rehearsal for twenty minutes, the manager tore out in a great rage to arrange the moon himself.

"On the stage a pause ensued. During the pauce the leading lady said wearily to the villain:

"'Oh, dear, what are we waiting for now?'

"'Nothing much,' the villain answered. 'The boss wants a real moon, and he's gone to fetch it, that's all.'"

AND STILL SOME VACANCIES.

George W. Perkins, who has withdrawn from the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., to devote himself to the great public questions of the day, said at a recent dinner in New York:

"Ours is a country of phenomenal prosperity. There is no such prosperity anywhere else on earth. Here we have work for all."

Mr. Perkins smiled.

"In fact," he said, "we have such a scarcity of labor here that the western farmer was hardly joking when he inserted in the papers this 'want ad:'

"Wanted—Harvest hands. Hired girl blonde and pleasant. Phonograph music during meals. Pie three times a day. Six lumps of sugar to each cup of coffee. Hammocks, leather divans, cosy corners, feather beds. Rising hour, 10 a. m. Organ concert every evening. Free chewing and smoking. Come one, come all.'"

THE GREAT
Golden Crown
TREATMENT
For Constipation, Indigestion, Etc.

Irritation and inflammation of the inner linings cause disease germs to breed and thrive producing inner fevers, which in turn destroy the digestive or gastric juices, creating constipation, poor circulation, stagnant and poisoned blood, rheumatism, lumbago, insomnia and nervous prostration.

The absence of these digestive fluids also cause gas to form, which inflates and prevents the walls of the stomach from coming in contact with the food, resulting in indigestion, dyspepsia, heart palpitation, chronic ulceration, etc. This Great Remedy corrects all troubles of the kind by removing the cause. It at once allays all irritation and inflammation and places the entire internal organism in a perfectly healthy, normal condition, these same troubles mind you, that have withstood the most persistent and expensive old style doctoring for months, even years, now yield in a few days under the Great GOLDEN CROWN Treatment, and at a cost not to exceed 25c. Your druggist will refund the price if it fails.

Ladies are no longer obliged to use Face Powder. It only helps for an hour or so, then it's gone. Our Lectro Skin Food produces the same effect as powder, and its effects are lasting. BANKING HOUSE FOR SOUTH SIDE

German-American Interests Said to Have Plan in View.

PURCHASE A CORNER

While authoritative confirmation of the rumor cannot now be obtained, information from credible sources is to the effect that German-American interests are preparing to establish a new banking house some squares south of the present financial district on Calhoun street. With this end in view a deal is now being closed for the purchase of the northeast corner of Calhoun and Holman streets.

This is the old Third Presbyterian church property, recently sold by Mossman, Varnelle & Co., to the Federal Securities and Investment company, which is believed to have been acting merely as the agent of the German-American organization. Under the plan which is said to be in contemplation, the banking interests will take the twenty feet of Calhoun street frontage at the corner, while Messrs. Max Irmscher and Henry Hilgeman have purchased the remaining forty feet of the property.

President S. M. Foster, of the German-American, is in Honolulu, and Cashier Theo. Wentz today declined to either confirm or deny the rumored deal, but it is known that for some time a movement to place a banking institution farther south on Calhoun street has been in contemplation by the German-American interests. Under the national banking law a national bank is not permitted to have a branch, so that the new institution may be either the establishing of a state bank or a branch of the German-American Trust company, with the chances in favor of the latter development, and a business which shall cater largely to the savings branch of trust company business.

In this connection it now transpires that the organization of a savings bank for the south side has been under consideration for some time by another crowd of local financiers, but no steps have as yet been taken by them in the matter beyond a discussion of the situation.

A LONG WALK.

Allan A. Ryan, the president of the Aero Club of America, said at a recent aeronauts' banquet in New York:

"There's a chap in France who is getting remarkable results out of a study of the flight of the large soaring birds, the eagle, condor and vulture. He tames these huge creatures. They walk at his side like dogs. A condor of his at the Pau aerodrome narrowly escaped being run over by an automobile last month.

"There is always something funny about walking birds. You will remember that windy winter day when the blasts were so wild and strong that the crows all had to walk home. Can't you see those crows, black and grave, trudging sturdily homeward along the wind swept and snowy road?

"I heard the other day about a man who bet a pigeon fancier that he hadn't a pigeon that could make the trip from Philadelphia to New York. The pigeon fancier accepted this bet, and foolishly entrusted his best carrier pigeon to his opponent. The latter, though, before releasing the bird in Philadelphia, clipped its wings.

"The next day the fancier admitted sadly that his pigeon had not yet come home.

"'Then I win,' said the other man.

"'No; you must wait a bit,' objected the fancier.

"The second day the pigeon had still not returned. But on the third day the fancier gaily demanded payment of his wager.

"'My bird is back,' he said, 'and in superb condition, only his feet are sore.'"

DANCERS DENIED JOY OF THE MAZY

Young Folk Marooned Far from City When Car Leaves Rails.

TRAFFIC IS TIED UP

Carrying a merry party of young folk from Auburn, Garrett and Kendallville, bound for this city to attend the dance given Monday evening by the long distance operators of the Home Telephone company, a southbound Toledo and Chicago interurban car left the track at a point two miles north of Huntertown. The young people, marooned far from the city, did not get an opportunity to join in the many waltz. Instead they were compelled to put in some hours aboard the car. Before the trouble was cleared away it was too late to continue the trip to Fort Wayne and they were taken back to their homes.

Incidentally the accident completely tid up traffic on this division of the Toledo and Chicago for more than six hours. The car in the mishap was the one due in Fort Wayne at 8:17 o'clock, and it plunged in the mud up to the motors when the rails spread as the car was rounding a curve at Stoner's. Fortunately the car did not overturn and nobody was injured. Making the best of a bad situation, the young people who had been harboring delightful anticipations of the ball in this city could do little but wait, and this is precisely what they did until nearly 2 o'clock Tuesday morning when a work car and its crew sent from Kendallville succeeded in getting repairs made and the derailed car back on the track, when it was taken northward.

The 6:47 car out of Fort Wayne Monday evening was the last until 2:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, and it passed the southbound car but a short distance north of Stoner's. Fully seventy-five passengers anxious to get northbound cars waited about the interurban station in this city for several hours. Then some of them gave it up and sought hotels for the night. About forty boarded the first car to get past the scene of the accident when it started on the return trip out of Fort Wayne at 2:20 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The Home Telephone and Telegraph company has closed a contract with the new Cushion Heel Shoe company for the installation of a private intercommunicating telephone system in their office and factory.

A LIBELOUS YARN.

Ex-Gov. Alva Adams was the guest of honor at the recent alfalfa banquet in Rifle, Colo.,—a banquet wherein appeared alfalfa biscuit, alfalfa-stuffed turkey, mashed alfalfa (far better than mashed potatoes,) alfalfa-leaf spinach, alfalfa tea and cider, alfalfa salad, and alfalfa toothpicks.

"Alfalfa is delicious," said Mr. Adams, at the banquet's end, as he drew his napkin across his mouth. "I have eaten and drunk heartily of it. I can only speak of it in terms of the highest praise.

"The people misjudge alfalfa. They misjudge it as the 'biled-clothes' story misjudges the civilization of the west.

"According to this libelous yarn, a Harvard professor visited the west on a geographical expedition. In Albertus he put up with a rancher. The first night on the ranch he slept in his clothes, like the rest of the boys, out of politeness, but the second night he complained about this.

"'I can't stand it,' he said to the rancher. 'I don't seem to get my rest. My boots especially incommode me.'

"So the hospitable rancher stretched a cowskin across the shack, and that night the Harvard professor slept in his long, white night gown by himself.

"At daybreak the night foreman came in while the professor was still slumbering. The foreman cast one glance at the sleeper, then tiptoed forth and said to the rancher:

"'Rather sudden, wasn't it?'

"'What?' the rancher asked.

"'Why, the death of the old prof.'

"'He's not dead,' said the rancher. 'He's sleepin'.'

"'Then what in tarnation is he wearin' them biled clothes for?' snorted the foreman. 'Never seen a chap laid out in biled clothes afore 'ceptin' he was dead.'"

THE Base Ball Bowling DAILY Boxing and All SENTINEL Worth Printing SPORTS

INDIANAPOLIS IS FOLLOWING SUIT

PLAN STARTED HERE

Indianapolis is following up Fort Wayne's plan of operating a recently organized city league which will give all its surplus at the close of the season to the playgrounds fund. A big bazar will be held in Tomlinson hall to get money enough to start and equip the league and the playgrounds will get all of the money left at the close of the schedule.

Just who conceived the idea in Fort Wayne has not been made public but certain it is that the local shop league is a pioneer in the cause and that the movement is a popular one. Officers of the association of last season worked and worked hard during the entire summer without pay and at the close were able to turn over about $150 to the playgrounds committee and if half of the things planned for this year are carried out the fund ought to be twice as large.

President J. V. Wilson has called a meeting of the league for the Commercial club rooms tonight. It was announced by mistake in The Sentinel yesterday that the meeting had been called for last night.

There are many important measures to be taken up and all of the managers are asked to be on hand. The undertaking last year was untried. There were teams in all of the shops and some good ball players were on the rosters, but there was no organization and the question of supremacy was never settled.

An organization was perfected, the playgrounds feature injected into it and in a short time the league was on its feet and it weathered the season in great shape. Encouraged by success the officers will redouble their efforts this year and a number of schemes for raising money that were never attempted last season will be followed out this year and excellent results are anticipated.

All of the lessons learned the first season have already proven invaluable to the officers and, players and new rules, new ideas and some new blood has been injected and excellent results are bound to come.

GOES BACK TO QUINCY.

"PEP" CLARKE.

The release of Roy (Pepper) Clark to Quincy, Ill., by Toledo, is noted in the bulletin of President Chivington of the American association. Clarke caught swell ball for Bade Myers at Quincy in the Central association last season. He was drafted by the Mud Hens at the close of the season. His return lifts the worry of securing a catcher to take his place from Bade's mind.

BOWLERS IN FOR A CHANGED PLAN

League to Be Organized Independent of the Alley Managers.

SCORES OF THE GAMES

If plans that are afoot in Fort Wayne materialize organized bowling will be carried on next season under a changed scheme that will probably bring about a betterment of conditions. In the first place the organization will be entirely independent of the management of any alley and the men will be required to make deposits to insure that they will bowl out the season. Terms will be made with alleys furnishing the best equipment and the bowlers will be in position to obtain just what they want and will have affairs under their own control.

Then if the merchants and manufacturers want to put up a fund of any sort to advertise themselves and promote the sport they can feel assured that the money will be devoted entirely to the purpose for which it is intended. Under this plan a league can be maintained for an entire season with the assurance that the bowlers will go through the schedule to save their forfeit money.

There will be no inducement to drop out when a team drops into a rut and the race will probably be fought out to the end of the season. Under conditions that exist now the men other than those with a chance to win have nothing to hold them in the league and they are growing indifferent. An iron-clad rule that will equalize the strength of the teams and the bowlers entirely in charge of their own affairs are essentials that will be looked after in the future and if the idea is carried out Fort Wayne will have one of the most compact and best leagues in the country next season.

KNITTERS TAKE TWO GAMES.

Bowsers Win First But Fall Down in Second and Third.

In the Manufacturers' league games last night the Bowsers got a good start and nabbed the first of the series from the Wayne Knits, but fell down badly in the second. In the third they rolled the best of the evening, but the hosiery makers crowded on steam and took the struggle by a comfortable margin. Walker copped the high marks in the losing camp and Carr and Hilker split honors for the winners. The scores:

SIGNS NEW PITCHER.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 21.—Pitcher James C. Withers of Constantine, Mich., a member of the Winston-Salem team in the Carolina association in 1909 has been signed by Manager Grant and will report with the rest of the Evas some time in March. Withers has been out of the game for a year but expects to be in good form this season. Memphis of the Southern league had him early in 1909 and turned him over to the team in the Carolina association.

Had Great Record for Season

"Chief" Bender, although he did not pitch as many games as some other pitchers in the American league last season, had a phenomenal record. He pitched 250 innings, during which time 120 players faced him 879 times and hit safely 182 times for an average of .207. His average was much better than Mullin's the star pitcher for 1909. Mullin, though in that year worked in over 50 more innings and held the American league batters to an average of .255. Bender came close to equalizing the record set by big Ed Walsh in 1908, when he kept the batting average of the American league in games which he pitched to .202.

TAYLOR HELD ON THE VET ROSTER

Veteran Pitcher Will Try Again to Come Back at Dayton.

FEW MEN UNSIGNED

Dayton, O., Feb. 21.—Five of the Dayton players are still outside of the contract fold, but it is not believed the club has any real holdouts, as the terms offered the men are good and the fact that they have not sent in their papers is attributed rather to neglect than any intention to try to hold the management up for more money.

Those who have signed are: "Punch" Knoll, Guy Sample, Ray Spencer, Jimmy Wacker, Ed Asher, Steve Ragan, Jack Taylor, Herman Baerer, W. U. Rohrer, Elmer Benson, Frank Winchell, Artista DeHaven, Frank Harriott, Herbert Murphy, Clarence Otter, Jake Fromholtz, William Fitzpatrick, Walter Van Zandt, Edward Mackey, Mike Cavanaugh, Frank Rhoton. The unsigned list is made up of Leonard Dobard, Tim O'Brien, Johnny Fisher, Mike Konnick, Archie Neuschafer.

Jack Taylor will be given a chance to come back, and even if he fails to make good his coaching will be of the greatest benefit to the corps of young pitchers that Knoll has under his wing for next season.

It is very doubtful if any pitcher that ever graced a big league diamond knew more baseball than the man who made his red shirt famous all over the country. Jack was one of those heavers who studied every batter, and while Brown and a few other stars were getting their names into print every day in the week, there was Jack going along at the same old rate, beating every team in the country and shining against hard-hitting crews like the Giants and others. When his arm gave way under the strain, he was sent to the minors, and when it was thought he was all in he joined the Old Soldiers in the fall of 1909. Dayton fans don't have to be told that the veteran pitched great ball that autumn and his work in feeding shutouts to the other teams of the league is still remembered. His arm was far from being dead, but it was with that foxy noodle of his that he did his best work, and many a good batter in the Central fanned because Jack gave him just what he was not looking for.

But rest seems to have cured the injured member, and this spring he declares that he will fool all of these wise ones who have been burying him for several seasons. He was down this way the other day looking better than he has for years and confident of helping the Vets achieve a high place in the 1911 race. The old boy is not trying any "con" game. He has made a proposition to the Dayton club to deliver the goods or get no coin, and it goes without saying that the management hopes to be compelled to pay the coin in good-sized bundles. With the bunch of young pitchers whom Punch will have report at Fairview, nothing will be of greater benefit than Jack's coaching, while Punch, thus relieved, can spend more time looking after the candidates for the other positions.

JOSS FAILED BEFORE MOTHER.

Eddie Tried to Show Parent How He Could Pitch.

Addie Joss failed miserably the first time he tried to show his mother, four years ago, that he was a great pitcher. "I started the season with seven straight victories," said Addie, "and by the time we reached Chicago I was feeling pretty chesty. Mother came from our home in Wisconsin to Chicago. I said, 'Mother, little Adrain is goin to pitch this afternoon, and, judging from the way he has been going, he is some pitcher.' Pat Dougherty hit the first ball I pitched for two bases. Fielder Jones got a single. The third batter up got a single. It simply rained hits, and before we managed to get three men out the Chicago Cubs had six runs."

WILL QUIT THE GAME.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 21.—Jimmy Slagle, outfielder of the Baltimore Eastern league team, announces his retirement from the game in a letter to Manager "Jack" Dunn of the Baltimore club, received today. Slagle made a great reputation as an outfielder on the Chicago National league team, coming to Baltimore two years ago. His throwing arm gave him considerable trouble last season and Manager Dunn was endeavoring to dispose of him on that account.

PRAISED FOR ITS WORK.

Allen County Association Gets Letter from Warden.

Members of the Allen County Sportsmen's league are in receipt of a letter from the state game and fish warden praising the members for the active steps taken for the preservation of game which has been of great value to the state department. Arrangements were made at a meeting last night under which the executive committee will distribute twenty-five dozen quail now in the hands of Dr. W. F. Meyers and Dr. Gaylord Leslie.

WANTS EXHIBITION GAME.

Senator Proctor Asks for Date for Ball Team With Champs.

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 21.—Senator Proctor has written to Manager Ed Smith asking for a date for an exhibition game during the practice season for the Elkhart team which he manages. It is not likely that he will be accommodated as all open dates have been filled. The first game will be played on April 8 and with the exception of three days games have been scheduled for exhibition until the opening of the league season. Manager Smith is anxious to use the three open days for team practice and unless one of the dates already scheduled should be cancelled, Proctor's team will not be played.

PARKER WILL BE GEE RAPS VOTER

New Team Owner Puts in Claim for Citizenship on Jump.

WILL MAKE CHANGES

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 21.—Dr. Hurley Parker, owner-manager of the Grand Rapids baseball team, has announced that he will locate permanently in this city not only for the season, but that he will become a voter and cast his lot with local fandom for all time to come.

On his arrival here Monday he took up that delightful occupation of house hunting and as soon as he finds a house that suits him and gets it all rented his wife will come over and select a place for the family to live.

The new owner has been warned against the greatest evil that ever beset baseball in Grand Rapids—outside ownership. He has prepared to take good care of this end of the situation by moving his family right off the reel and by the time the players arrive they will find their boss right at home.

The doctor has the right idea about minor league ball and instead of discards from the majors he will build his team largely of youngsters who are on their way up and believes that he will be able to give the public a snappy article of baseball.

"I'll have a place to bring my folks to in a day or so, depend upon that," said the doctor. "And I'll have them here inside of two weeks, believe me. Why, life would be unendurable away from them all the time.

"No, we're not coming here just for the baseball season. We're coming here to live. I'm already a citizen of Grand Rapids, and I'll be a voter here from now on. I am planning on making this city my permanent home.

"I've undertaken a big business venture here and I intend to make it a go and a credit to Grand Rapids. I used to be in baseball for the sport of it, now I'm making it my business. I have the greatest faith in Grand Rapids' baseball future, and am going to demonstrate it by settling right down here, where I have bought the franchise.

"Between seasons? Well, I'm a regularly qualified physician and surgeon. I'm not making any definite statements so far in advance. Just now I'm that harassed individual, a minor league baseball magnate.

"There'll be some innovations in local baseball management, I give you my word. You'll see a lot of new faces under the visors of Grand Rapids caps. The players who rely on past performances to hold them up and who play with pay day in view can't work for me. Their ambition has gone into the discard long ago. What I'm after, and will have, is the young players who prize a "rep" above their earnings, who are not merely time servers in the baseball army past all hopes of promotion."

BOXER IS DISCOURAGED.

New York, Feb. 21.—An outgoing trans-Atlantic liner this week will have as one of her passengers Digger Stanley, the English bantamweight champion, on his way home. Stanley says he is discouraged by the treatment some critics of boxing in this country have accorded him.

FELL OUT.

"How's your brother?"

"Not very well. He was playing with another little boy seeing who could lean the farthest out o the window—and he won."

Pickups From the Sport World

Bert "Button" Briggs, an old-time pitcher, is dead of tuberculosis at his home in Cleveland.

Ed Smith, manager of the South Bend team, says he will not sell Alva Holt until he has had a good chance to show whether he can stick with the Broncbos.

Elmer Moffitt, pitcher for the South Ben team announces that he is the father of a nice baby boy who arrived a few days ago at his New Carlisle home.

Manager Chance is in a hurry to get his men together to see what chance he has to land another pennant in the National league. By pushing the starting date of the training trip two days ahead the peerless leader makes a lot of friends among the fans.

Willard Bean, who is refereeing fights around Salt Lake City, is a Mormon elder and a former fighter of considerable repute in the west a few years back. When Bean was in the ring services for his especial benefit were held in the Mormon temples.

Paul Mohn has issued a challenge to wrestle any wrestler in South Bend at 105 pounds. The match ought to be interesting if he can get hold of a big burly fellow like himself for the other end of the sketch.

Dissatisfied with the salary offered him by Bill Armour for the coming season, Harry Niles, the utility man purchased by Bill Armour from the Cleveland team, is holding out for a larger stipend. President Armour, however, declares he is offering the ex-Nap a very reasonable figure and will not give him any more.

On the recommendation of Shortstop Butler, President Armour has signed Frank Gordon, a young southpaw, hailing from Franklin, Pa., Butler's home town. Gordon pitched for the Maysville-Jamestown, N. Y., semi-pro club last season and established an excellent record there.

Hugh Duffy believes Ed Walsh, his star pitcher, is the peer of present day performers, not excepting Christy Mathewson or Walter Johnson. The White Sox will probably play the Giants a series in Texas, in which event the two great sluhmen may be brought together. "The Giants have nothing on us," declared Duffy, "and we are keen for the games."

The following players have signed Pittsburg contracts: Pitchers Molloy, Noel, Adams, Couchman, Faber, Ferry, Gardner, Hendrix, Leifield, Nagle, Phillippe, Pressy, Smith, Steele and White; Catchers Gibson, Martin, Simon, Flynn and O'Connor; Infielders Bisland, Hunter, McCarthy, Miller and Niehoff; Outfielders Bates, Carey, Clarke, Leach and Wilson.

When it is considered that the Class A minor leagues observe no player limit, the major leagues do not appear so selfish after all. Columbus, of the American association, has sixty-one players on reserve, Canzel, of the Rochester Eastern league champions, has almost forty, while Des Moines, of the Western league, has thirty players in reserve.

"Rube" Oldring, star outfielder of the world's champion Athletics, is wintering at Wilkesbarre, Pa. He is under the care of a noted Philadelphia specialist, who promises to have the outfielder's injured knee in fit shape for heavy spring training. Oldring was very much disappointed because he was not able to figure in the recent world's series, but he loudly boasts that if he is alive and strong he will have the honor next fall. According to Oldring, the Athletics will cop twice in a row, sure.

Here is what Eddie Collins has to say about Jimmy Austin, whom the Yankees traded to St. Louis: "If I was as fast as Jimmy Austin, I don't believe I'd ever stop running until I had crossed the plate. There is no question about him being faster than Cobb and I, but Jimmy has never developed the art of getting a bid lead. That is where Cobb and I have the better of him. He also slides head first most of the time, which is not nearly so successful in stealing bases as the feet-first plunge. If Austin ever learns these two tricks, he ought to steal 100 bases in a season, for he has the speed."

The Secrets of Success
DR. HARDMAN, Specialist
FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE AFFLICTED AND THE PUBLIC IN GENERAL, DR. HARDMAN EXPLAINS THE SECRET OF HIS PHENOMENAL SUCCESS IN THE TREATMENT OF PELVIC, NERVOUS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

CAREFUL and THOROUGH EXAMINATION—This is of the highest importance, because it is an impossibility to successfully treat these CHRONIC and DEEP SEATED diseases until their exact condition is fully determined.

ORIGINAL METHODS—I long ago discarded the ancient and entirely inadequate methods that time and again have been proven useless; but which so many doctors use because they know of no other, or do not take the trouble to discover effective ones.

EXPERIENCE—For nearly 15 years I have made a special study of a few diseases instead of trying the impossible feat of mastering them all. This has given me the opportunity of making extensive investigations, the result of which is a superior knowledge of these special diseases, thereby enabling those whom I do treat to obtain CURES where they have heretofore gotten only failures and disappointment.

SYSTEMATIC TREATMENT—System is necessary in all business in order to make it a success, and nowhere is it more important than in the treatment and cure of disease. Each patient is given a course of treatment and I carefully see that this is carried out, systematically and thoroughly, instead of leaving all for the patient to do.

PERSONAL ATTENTION—I see and treat every case myself, instead of leaving their treatment to hired assistants; who are usually hired either because they are cheap or because of their ability to get the patient's money.

Analyze the above and you will readily see why I have been so phenomenally successful, and why I have so many cured and satisfied patients who are always glad to attest to the satisfactory results they have obtained at this office. Come in and ask to see some of the many letters which I have as proof of my ability. It costs you nothing to consult with me and may be the means of saving you years of suffering and humiliation.

Every man who does less than he should at his desk, in the shop or on the farm is weak in some way. I have found that the man who is unable to accomplish all that he hopes or expects is often the silent sufferer from some hidden chronic or pelvic disease that is affecting one or more of the important nerve centers of the body.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN and nearly all nervous diseases are the result of CHRONIC or imperfectly treated PELVIC DISEASES. My special methods of treatment not only quickly and permanently relieve the most distressing symptoms, but restore to a NORMAL and HEALTHY condition the broken down and devitalized nervous system.

EXAMINATION—My facilities for examination are unexcelled. I learn the exact condition of the rectum, bladder and every organ of the genito-urinary system. This in itself is of the highest importance, inasmuch as a broken down nervous system and many more of the troubles of the STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEYS, etc., are reflex, and are the direct result of some pelvic lesion or disease.

BLOOD POISON—I use serums and vegetable drugs in the treatment of blood poison. Mercury and mineral poison have ruined many a man. My treatment eliminates the poison in half the time of the old methods and leaves the blood and tissues free from any taint of disease.

RUPTURE—I cure rupture in a few treatments without the use of the knife, without pain and without loss of time.

VARICOCELE, STRICTURE, PILES, FISTULA, etc., quickly and permanently cured without the knife and without detention from business.

PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT—Hundreds of men in every community are suffering untold humiliation and torture from pain and non-retention of urine simply because they have not been able to obtain relief from this most distressing condition. You cannot afford to neglect yourself, either as a matter of business or personal comfort. My many testimonials prove the efficacy of my method. I reduce the enlargement and have been able to cure fully 90 per cent of all cases.

FREE SAMPLE CURED OLD PERSON'S BOWEL TROUBLE

One of the most remarkable proofs of the unusual laxative merit contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is that it is effective not only in people in the prime of life, but at the extremes of ages. As many letters are received from mothers regarding the cures of children as from men and women of sixty, seventy and eighty years of age. It must be truly a wonderful laxative.

In the cure of constipation and bowel trouble in old people it has no equal. It corrects the constipation, dispels the headache, biliousness, gas, drowsiness after eating, etc. People advancing in years should see to it that their bowels move freely, and if they do not to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You can prolong your life by healthy bowel action. Clogged bowels invite disease. Women about to pass the menstrual period cannot do better than use Syrup Pepsin several times a week until the system has settled to its future condition.

Among the strongest supporters of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are Mr. W. G. Zorn of New Decatur, Ala. and Mr. George S. Spaulding of the National Soldiers' Home, Kansas, both elderly men. The regular size bottles can be bought of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar, but a free sample bottle can be had by sending your address to the doctor.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

My special study of TEN PELVIC DISEASES covers many years and I am as proficient in these diseases as any specialist in the United States.

I give a written guarantee to cure any case I accept, but I do not treat any case that is incurable. Many men think they cannot afford to take treatment of me on account of my great reputation, but they do not know that I can treat the poorest as well as the richest, as I cure many cases for advertising purposes alone, and to let the public know of my ability in curing these chronic diseases.

If you are in doubt, or have been treated unsuccessfully, come to my office and talk your case over with me. It will cost you nothing and will be a comfort to you, whether you take treatment or not.

President Appoints Man He Punched in Jaw During Game

New York, Feb. 21.—In appointing Jack Doyle to the National league umpire staff, President T. J. Lynch has made no mistake, in the opinion of baseball men. Once a star player, one of those who study the inside workings of the game, Doyle is well equipped to judge up-to-date methods on the diamond. Having caught behind the bat before he developed into a crack first baseman, he is well qualified to discriminate between balls and strikes. Still an athlete, fleet of foot and a quick thinker, Doyle, it is thought, will render base decisions promptly, and will always be in close touch with the bags. As a ball player Doyle possessed a fiery temper. He had no consideration for a so-called incompetent umpire. He kicked vigorously whenever he thought a decision was unfairly rendered against his team, and it made no difference whether the best or the poorest judges of play handed down the verdict. Doyle was frequently fined and banished from the field, but he kept on kicking, right up to the last day of his career as a player.

Oddly enough, Doyle and President Lynch, who was the league's star umpire in those days, clashed on several occasions. It was in 1895, when George Davis was manager of the Giants and Doyle was covering first base, that Lynch had an unpleasant experience at the Polo grounds. Davis and Doyle kicked over several close decisions until Lynch lost patience and fined each $100. Davis and Doyle promptly appealed to the owner of the New York club, who lost no time in requesting Lynch's removal from his assignment at the Polo grounds. As N. E. Young, then president of the league, failed to sustain Lynch, the latter resigned from the umpire staff, in spite of protests from players and fans all over the country.

Under new conditions Lynch was induced to return several years later, and in Boston he had his second serious run-in with Doyle. Jack was playing first base for the visitors when Lynch made a close decision in favor of the Home team. Doyle rushed in to the plate and scored the king of umpires roundly, at the same time trying to step on Lynch's feet with his spiked shoes. Lynch, driven to desperation, suddenly lost his self-control and landed Doyle a stiff punch on the jaw. Doyle backed away with a look of mingled surprise and admiration, and kicked no more. In his opinion Lynch was the biggest man in baseball. The next day Lynch, who regretted the incident, offered an apology to the Boston fans in the grandstand and was warmly applauded.

From that day to this Doyle and Lynch have been close friends. When Doyle applied recently for an umpire's berth, Lynch regarded him with instant favor.

"You've got the nerve, Jack!" said the National league's president. "Also the knowledge of baseball. You know what kicking means and how it should be dealt with. But you must control your temper. Do not lose your head as I did when I punched you in that same in Boston. Just enforce the rules and give the decisions as you see them. I'm sure you will be a success."

HUNT FOR HOUSES GREAT IN CITY

Some Are Newcomers, But Most of Them Are After Better Homes.

A TALK ABOUT RENTS

"Yes, there are a large number of applicants for houses to rent," said H. C. Schrader, of the real estate firm of Schrader & Wilson, with whom The Sentinel reporter was talking. "I expect we will average from twenty to twenty-five a day.

"But this is not an evidence that dwelling houses are scarce to that extent," he continued. "Of these applicants probably three-fourths are already housed in the city. They are seeking a change in location, desiring to move into better houses or into different parts of the city. Possibly one-fourth of them are new comers to the city.

"What are the class of houses demanded?" asked the reporter.

"Those renting at anywhere from $8 to $20 a month," he replied. "This is the class of houses the city needs. Houses that rent for more than this are not in demand."

Many Houses Built.

J. H. Bilderback, who has charge of the house renting department of the W. E. Doud real estate agency, when interviewed by the reporter on the house renting problem, had about the same to say in regard to the number of house hunters. He was inclined to think, however, that the proportion of new comers was larger than one-fourth of the house hunters. He was also of the opinion that what the city needed was the cheaper class of tenement houses.

"Last year," said he, "there was something like 700 new dwelling houses built in Fort Wayne. And yet we haven't got enough of them. We do not need the high-price renting houses. A man ought not to pay more than one week's wages for the rent of his house for a month."

Room Renting.

"How about room renting?" asked the reporter.

"There is almost always a demand for unfurnished rooms," he said. "Furnished rooms are not easily rented as a rule. There are two many of them now. Every day we turn away applicants for two, three or four unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. If the people who have tenantless furnished rooms to rent were to vacate them of their furniture they could rent them in short order, and, in the long run, they would make more money out of them."

Rooms, furnished or unfurnished, outside of a half hour's walk from the court house, the center of the city's business district, are especially difficult to rent. This is true, also, in a great measure, with dwelling houses. It is not so much so, however, with those houses out a distance which are situated near the big factories.

Regarding Rents.

With light and water in them, Mr. Schrader thought that rents for houses within a half hour's walk of the court house ought not to be more than $6 to $8 for three or four rooms, and not more than $12 for one of five or six rooms. Of course, if modernly equipped with bath room, etc., the rent would be higher. A house of the latter type would rent for $20.

Both Mr. Schrader and Mr. Bilderbeck thought that house building for tenement purposes was a good paying proposition. Unless built on real estate that was too high-priced it would yield the investor 8 or 10 per cent. on his money, and he has property that is constantly growing in value.

People Always Moving.

In the years long ago, before Fort Wayne had grown to be a city, house moving was practically confined to the month of May. Very few people moved from one house to another in the other months of the year. May was the great moving month. Now all this is different. People move every month in the year. Of course, it is less during the winter months than in summer. But it is not an infrequent sight to see people moving into a new home in the dead of winter.

Seeking the Center.

As showing the great hunt for houses in progress even in this cold month of February here is an instance. A party living within six squares of the center of the city, decided to move into another part of the city, and the move was made today. Last Friday the owner of the house vacated inserted an advertisement in the want columns of The Sentinel. Saturday and Sunday thirty-nine applicants called at the owner's home to rent the house and although it was rented Saturday, callers to the owner's home are yet coming to rent the house. The incident also shows that house hunters are seeking locations near the center of the city.

GRAY HAIRS BANISHED.

The old idea of using sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers used to have dark, glossy hair at the age of seventy-five, while our mothers have white hair before they are fifty. Our grandmothers used to make a "sage tea" and apply it to their hair. The tea made their hair soft and glossy and gradually restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it, especially as it had to be made every two or three days on account of it souring quickly. This objection has been overcome and by asking almost any first-class druggist for Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy the public can get a superior preparation of sage, with the admixture of sulphur, another valuable remedy for hair and scalp troubles. Daily use of this preparation will not only quickly restore the color of the hair but will also stop the hair from falling out and make it grow.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle and is recommended and sold by

The Adventures of Mr. Peter Ruff

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

The Perfidy of Miss Brown

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE PEARSON PUBLISHING CO.

"We have very valuable aid," he said. "There is below us—the 'Double-Four'—the eight gentlemen now present, an executive council composed of five of the shrewdest men in France. They take their orders from us. We plan, and they obey. We have imagination, and special sources of knowledge. They have the most perfect machinery for carrying out our schemes that it is possible to imagine. I do not wish to boast, Mr. Ruff, but if I take a directory of Paris and place after any man's name, whatever his standing or estate, a black cross, that man dies before seven days have passed. You buy your evening paper—a man has committed suicide! You read of a letter found by his side: an unfortunate love affair—a tale of jealousy or reckless speculation. Mr. Ruff, the majority of these explanations are false. They are invented and arranged for by us. This year alone, five men in Paris, of position, have been found dead, and accounted, for excellent reasons, suicides. In each one of these cases, Monsieur Ruff, although not a soul has a suspicion of it, the removal of these men was arranged for by the 'Double-Four'."

"I trust," Peter Ruff said, "that it may never be my ill-fortune to incur the displeasure of so marvelous an association."

"On the contrary, Monsieur Ruff," the other answered, "the attention of the association has been directed towards certain incidents of your career in a most favorable manner. We have spoken of you often lately, Mr. Ruff, between ourselves. We arrive now at the object for which we begged the honor of your visit. It is to offer you the Presidency of our Executive Council."

Peter Ruff had thought of many things, but he had not thought of this! He gasped, recovered himself, and realized at once the dangers of the position in which he stood.

"The Council of Five!" he said, thoughtfully.

"Precisely," Monsieur de Founcelles replied. "The salary—forgive me for giving such prominence to a matter which you doubtless consider of secondary importance—is ten thousand pounds a year, with a residence here and in London—also servants."

"It is princely!" Peter Ruff declared. "I cannot imagine, Monsieur, how you could have believed me capable of filling such a position."

"There is not much about you, Mr. Ruff, which we do not know," Monsieur de Founcelles answered. "There are points about your career which we have marked with admiration. Your work over here was rapid and comprehensive. We know all about you checkmating the Count von Hern and the Comtesse de Pilitz. We have appealed to you for aid once only—your response was prompt and brilliant. You have all the qualifications we desire. You are still young, physically you are sound, you speak all languages, and you are unmarried."

"I am what?" Peter Ruff asked, with a start.

"A bachelor," Monsieur de Founcelles answered. "We who have made crime and its detection a life-long study, have reduced many matters concerning it to almost mathematical exactitude. Of one thing we have become absolutely convinced—it is that the great majority of cases in which the police triumph are due to the treachery of women. The criminal who steers clear of the other sex escapes a greater danger than the detectives who dog his heels. It is for that reason that we choose only unmarried men for our executive council."

Peter Ruff made a gesture of despair.

"And I am to be married in a month!" he exclaimed.

There was a murmur of dismay. If those other seven men had not once intervened, it was because the conduct of the affair had been voted into the hands of Monsieur de Founcelles, and there was little which he had left unsaid. Nevertheless, they had formed little circles around the two men. Every word which had passed between them had been listened to eagerly. Gestures and softly murmured exclamations had been frequent enough. There arose now a chorus of voices, which their leader had some difficulty in silencing.

"It must be arranged!"

"But it is impossible—this!"

"Monsieur Ruff amuses himself with us!"

"Gentlemen," Peter Ruff said, "I can assure you that I do nothing of the sort. The affair was arranged some months ago, and the young lady is even now in Paris, purchasing her trousseau."

Monsieur de Founcelles, with a wave of the hand, commanded silence. There was probably a way out. In any case, one must be found.

"Monsieur Ruff," he said, "putting aside, for one moment, your sense of honor, which, of course, forbids you to even consider the possibility of breaking your word—supposing that the young lady herself should withdraw——"

"You don't know Miss Brown!" Peter Ruff interrupted.

"It is a pleasure to which I hope to attain," Monsieur de Founcelles declared, smoothly. "Let us consider once more my proposition. I take it for granted that, apart from this threatened complication, you find it agreeable?"

"I am deeply honored by it," Peter Ruff declared.

"Well, that being so," Monsieur de Founcelles said, more cheerfully, "we must see whether we cannot help you. Tell me, who is this fortunate young lady—this Miss Brown?"

"She is a young person of good birth and some means," Peter Ruff declared. "She is, in a small way, an actress; she has also been my secretary from the first."

NO LIFE WITHOUT RECREATION.

A Frontier Mail Carrier, Forever in the Open, Died of Tuberculosis.

(Dr. Woods Hutchinson, in the Outing Magazine.)

Paradoxical as it may seem, those who work hardest are most in need of exercise. Some of our hardest working occupations show a very high mortality from tuberculosis. Two of the most unmanageable and rapidly fatal cases of this disease that I have ever seen were in a frontier mail carrier who rode forty miles on horseback every day, swimming from two to five streams whenever they happened to be in flood, and a timber cruiser, or field surveyor for a big lumber company, who was perpetually taking months-long trips through the most inaccessible regions, with monotonous and often scanty food supply. Neither of them could get any vacation and they had almost forgotten the meaning of the word amusement. It is hard to say which is the most powerful factor in producing a high death rate—excessive muscular work or overconfinement. Certainly, occupations for both men and women, which combine the two—domestic servants and unskilled laborers—show the shortest life and the heaviest death rate of all.

If a man wishes a long life and, what is more important, a happy one, he must plan to spend at least two, and better three, hours a day in the open air, in some light, active exercise of the nature of a game or sport, that gives him enjoyment.

SOUNDS ANNOYING.

Redd: I see a certain scientist says that in about 280 years, when the world's population exceeds 5,994,000,000, the earth will be unable to find nourishment for her people, and they will be forced either to cannibalism or starvation.

James R. Medsker, the Pennsylvania machinist who was injured nearly two weeks ago while at work and who has been in a precarious condition, shows a slight improvement today. When the accident occurred a physician was called and at that time it was thought to be only a badly sprained ankle, but his condition became so serious, the foot having become badly infected, that he was removed to St. Joseph hospital. SMALL DAMAGE SOUTH

Washington, Feb. 21.—Temperatures this morning were below seasonable average in every part of the country except the north Pacific coast, caused by an increased barometeric pressure, according to the weather bureau. Miles City, Mont., reported the barometer there as reading 31.10 inches this morning, this being the highest reading recorded in the United States in the last several years.

The increase in pressure has caused freezing weather as far south as extreme north Florida and throughout the interior of the gulf states. Fair, cold weather will continue tonight and Wednesday in all districts east of the Mississippi. Temperatures will be below freezing tonight in the east gulf states and the south Atlantic states as far south as northern Florida and frost will occur tonight in central Florida.

LITTLE DAMAGE SOUTH.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 21.—Fruit trees prematurely budded in Texas and Georgia withstood the bitter cold of last night, according to reports received here today and indications are that frost forecasted for tonight will not seriously damage early buds.

Quaint Little Folks' Ideas.

After eating a piece of peppermint candy Hilda begged her mother just to eat one piece, saying: "Mamma, do eat a piece. It airs you all out inside."

Mother was explaining the usefulness of the different domestic animals while showing their pictures to the children when little Leland said: "You couldn't ride on the camel. It is too hilly."

How to Feel Happy.

"Mother," said a little girl, returning from the park, "I gave an old woman a drink of water from my silver cup, and she said 'Thank you' so beautifully that it make me feel good."

Here, then, is the medicine for any one who feels discontented or unhappy. Let him do a "thank you's" work of kindness every hour, and he will feel good.

Minus One.

It creates a good deal of fun to start reciting any poem and after each word to add "minus one." Thus, "Goosey minus one, goosey minus one, gander minus one, whither minus one, do minus one, you minus one, wander minus one?" The player who makes a slip of the tongue or who laughs has to pay a forfeit.

DECIDEDLY.

"So your brother is engaged to Miss Slim. Do you think she is a good match?"

"Well, she's a regular stick, and she's got a red head!"

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 21.—Substantial decrease in the European visible supply of wheat put traders in a moderately bullish frame of mind today. Moreover, the response by foreign markets to the decline on this side yesterday turned out too feeble for any practical use by the bears. It was also noticed that the May option here was showing increased signs of congestion and that the price of the delivery in Chicago was almost 10c under the same future at Liverpool. Opening figures were ⅛@¼c to ⅜c higher than last night to ⅛c off. May started at 90⅝c to 90⅞c, a rise of ⅛c to the same amount decline and then ascended to 91@91⅜c.

Cold weather eased corn. May opened a shade lower at 48¾c, rallied to 48⅞c, and fell to 48⅝c.

Short selling by local speculators depressed oats. May started a sixteenth off at 31⅝c and declined to 31½@31⅝c.

Hardly any trade was in progress in the provision pit. In a nominal way prices were steady with May options at $17.70 for pork, $9.37½ for lard and $9.52½ for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 21.—Trading in securities of the Gould roads was the prominent feature of the opening of the stock market today. Missouri Pacific and Wabash four per cent bonds advanced a point each. Wabash preferred ¾ and Wabash and Texas & Pacific ¼. The general list was fairly steady with few important changes. Southern Railway lost ½ and the copper shares were weak.

The bulk of the trading in the first hour was in the Gould securities which made further gains. Wabash fours were the strongest advancing 3¼ to a level more than 6 points over the price at the beginning of the week. The general market followed the advance on the Goulds to only a slight extent and later receded to slightly below last night's close. Central Leather lost a point and Central Railroad of New Jersey gained 7 points.

Evidence of recent inside buying of Gould securities which was especially pronounced during the late session yesterday attracted a large speculative following to these issues today. The strength displayed in that quarter was in contrast with the general market, which displayed a measure of heaviness throughout the morning. The bond market, as was the case yesterday, was relatively more active than the stock market and was generally strong. Transactions were on an enormous scale, with Wabash extension 4s, Missouri Pacific convertible 5s and the Wabash-Pittsburg terminal issues figuring for most of the business. At midday there was a better tone to the active stocks generally.

Operations dwindled steadily, the diversion of speculative interest into the Gould groupe leaving the usual market leaders without a following. This brought about a slight shading in prices of the active stocks during the course of the day, the list giving way more from neglect than because of any pronounced pressure to sell.

The market closed spiritless and heavy. In the last hour there was same renewal of activity, but at the expense of values, the lowest prices of the day being then registered by the active issues, namely United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific. In the final trading there was some recovery from lowest levels.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOCAL MARKET IS VERY DULL

Few Farmers Coming to City Because of Weather and Road Conditions.

THE MARKET OUTLOOK

The local market has been extremely dull during the last few days on account of the weather and the bad condition of the country roads. Very few farmers are coming to town. On the Barr street market at 10 o'clock this morning there was not a single farmer. There were three hucksters on the street with apples, potatoes and other country produce for sale. This deserted appearance of the market continued up to the noon hour, almost without change and then less than half a dozen farmers had made their appearance.

There is but little change in any of the market prices. Butter and eggs remain the same, fresh country eggs being 18 cents and butter 26 cents. In the eastern markets, the city centers, dealers have vast quantities of packed eggs on hand, many of them being held on what are called limit prices. Many others are sold at low prices. Hence the eastern shipments are uncommonly light at present. When the present cold weather breaks it is expected eggs will go lower.

A year ago at this time both butter and eggs were bringing better prices than now, especially eggs, which were eight cents higher.

Potatoes are dull at 35 and 50 cents. There are plenty of them in the country, the farmers having held back in the hope of better prices. Apples are sky-high in price, however, and the time is rapidly approaching when, in truth "apples will be apples." That is they will bring fancy prices. In fact, they are at that point now. Most of the poorer class of apples are pretty well exhausted. The best remain. They are selling at $5.50 and $6 a barrel, three bushels in a barrel.

Grain remains unchanged, wheat 86, corn 42 and oats 29 cents. The prices are much lower than they were a year ago this month, when wheat was bringing $1.20. Some think wheat has reached its low notch. But this is a difficult matter to determine because of "the gambling in wheat." The decline in the price of wheat has brought down flour. An examination of the regular market price list shows this decline.

The hog market remains unchanged, the top price for the 150 to 200 class being $7.35. The belief is expressed by the local dealers that prices will go lower. There are lots of hogs in the country, they say, and with better roads will get into the market. Beef prices are steady with no change to note.

HE TALKS AGAINST THE WEED.

An Indiana Professor Outlines a Plan to Improve Farms.

(Indianapolis News.)

"The farmer cannot afford to be robbed each year of a considerable part of his just earnings by the weed pest, said Prof. G. M. Frier, of Purdue university, in a lecture recently. "However, the farmers of Indiand are losing thousands of dollars every year because of the presence of weeds."

Professor Frier said it would not be difficult for farmers to acquaint themselves with a few things concerning weeds that would result in material profit in a short time.

"Learn the names of fifty or more of the common weeds," the speaker said. "Learn when they flower and when when they seed, how the spread, how nature has fitted them for dispersal, learn whether they are annuals, biennials, perennials and whether they reproduce from weeds only or underground stem. These things are essential in dealing with the weed situation, since weed control and eradication are based on a knowledge of the habits and characteristics of weeds. To eradicate weeds, keep them cut and prevent seeding, plow ground frequently in the fall and in the spring to kill seedlings, thoroughly cultivate corn fields, reject low grade clover seeds; be on the watch for new weeds and destroy them immediately and use a rotation of crops. Eternal vigilance, careful planning and co-operation make up the price of a clean farm.

WHY THEY CALL A SHIP "SHE."

You Could Never Guess the Age of Two a Century Old.

(Louisville Courier-Journal.)

Some ancient ships that rival even the celebrated American schooner Polly must be placed to the credit of Great Britain. First in order of age is the Jenny of Carnavon, 122 years old. The next is the May of Whitehaven, sometimes called the Molly Asheroft to distinguish her from other Mays. The May was built at Cowes in 1798, so that she is 112 years old, six years younger than the Polly.

THE BAD BOY AS AN ASSET.

Criminality Does Not Always Result if the Jouvenile Court Intervenes.

(Judge Lindsey, in National Monthly for February.)

The state is today taking care of tens of thousands of its young men after they have become criminals when they might have been saved from lives of crime by sane, sensible and sympathetic interest by the state in boyhood. From one-fifth to one-fourth of all arrests in cities have generally been among boys under 17 years of age and in proportion to ages of our population, by decades, this means that more boys are being arrested in cities than any other class of citizens, and these boys are mostly the criminals of tomorrow, unless wisely corrected and protected today. The cost of detecting and convicting criminals for a period of three years, in the city of Denver, through the criminal courts, was $1,200,000. The saving to the people of Denver in actual dollars and cents under three years under the juvenile court system was more than ¼ millon dollars.

WOMEN SHOULD USE THIS TO CLEAR THE COMPLEXION AND MAKE THE SKIN VELVETY.

Here is a Simple Recipe for a Massage Cream You Can Easily Prepare at Home.

No woman need suffer the humiliation of an unsightly complexion if she massages the skin nightly with plain cerol cream. This can be prepared at home at small cost, if you get 2 ounces of cerol at the drug store and dissolve in a scant pint of boiling water and stir until smooth.

Using this dainty and delightful massage cream quickly rids pores of blackheads, overcomes the oily, shiny condition and makes the skin soft and velvety, giving it a natural, healthy tone which powder and rouge cannot successfully imitate.
